Irish Knight Sure He Will Carry the Cup Back to England.

WANTS GOOD BREEZE

Admits the Defender Is Better Drifter—Praises Hospitality of American People.

TWO NEW MASCOTS SECURED

Good Breeze at Midnight

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—The wind at Sandy Hook at midnight was from the southwest, 12 miles an hour. The weather was clear and the sky cloudless. Indications are that the wind will hold through Saturday.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

New York, Aug. 21.—Shamrock III. and Reliance will make their second attempt to finish their first windward or leeward race tomorrow, and if the weather observers are to be believed there will probably be a good sailing breeze from the south or southwest. If this is the case it should be pretty definitely settled by tomorrow night whether or not the Shamrock has a chance to lift the cup, as, in spite of the Reliance's long lead on Thursday, some of the experts seem to think she will yet make a close race of it with Reliance to the windward mark, no matter what the defender may do to her in a run down the wind.

Tomorrow being a half-holiday a record-breaking crowd will probably go down the bay to see the rival racers, but as the excursion fleet will be nearly doubled the boats probably will be far less crowded than they were Thursday.

The preparatory signal, unless the starting line is moved, will be given off Sandy Hook lightship at 10:45 o'clock with a start at 11 o'clock sharp. The yachts will race over a 30-mile course of 15 miles to windward or leeward and return.

Sir Thomas Explains.

The showing made by Shamrock III. yesterday has not dampened the enthusiasm of Sir Thomas Lipton at all.

"Others may hold differently, but I am better satisfied and surer of the boat after yesterday than I have ever been before."

That was what Sir Thomas said today, after a night's reflection upon yesterday's fiasco. He was on board the Erin lying in the bight of Handy Hook bay. The Irish baronet was in the best of humor.

"Shamrock III. did the better work while there was any wind," he continued. "She showed her speed and quality. Of course, it was most unsatisfactory and the wind was not good but still——

"Now, if we had a day like this," he exclaimed, waving his hand out to the sea, flickering and shining under the cloudless sky and rippling in a ten-mile northwest wind.

"In the trials of Shamrock II., where an event was called off because of an inability to finish the course within the time limit, Shamrock was ahead when the judges declared the race off. Yet, when it came to an actual finish the Columbia always won. I do not know whether there is anything similar in the conditions of yesterday, but I am confident that the Shamrock III. will take the cup away. I think she did better work than Reliance, which, however, showed herself to be a better drifter. Tomorrow's race will tell the story. I am confident.

Where Reliance Excels.

"Reliance went ahead of us—she is the better drifter, sure. You see she is much higher and catches the chills and little currents high up in the air. Reliance and Shamrock III. are the same that way as Shamrock III. and Shamrock I."

Turning toward where Reliance was sailing about Sandy Hook bay, Sir Thomas continued:

"I think that Reliance gets wind out of the sky chills, as we call it on the other side, just as Shamrock III. does over Shamrock I. I mean that the new boat can get more air aloft than the old challenger.

"In light weather Reliance may get more chills above than Shamrock, but that is one of the reasons why the Yan-

Expert Opinions Deduced From Work of Both Yachts on Thursday

(Special Telegram to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Despite the showing of the Shamrock in yesterday's race she still has many admirers who believe her to be superior to the defender. They believe yesterday's effort was not a fair test because the wind favored the American boat. The adherents of the Reliance, however, say that she outclasses Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger and can win any kind of weather.

The following opinions given by yachting sharps tonight show in which way "the wind blows."

RELIANCE.

John Arbuckle—We have the better boat.

John H. Flagler—Fine boat and we'll win.

G. L. Oakley-Shinelander—Reliance is all right. The cup is safe.

Julius Fleischman—We'll keep the mug.

E. C. Benedict—The Reliance is a beautiful yacht and made a wonderful showing.

Z. A. Woodward, commodore Detroit Yacht club—The Shamrock III. cannot even entertain our boat.

F. L. Rodewell, New York Yacht club—There's only one boat in it—Reliance.

F. K. Stillman—Shamrock's not in it.

Frank B. Ferris—The Shamrock III. can't hold a candle to Reliance.

SHAMROCK III.

Sir Thomas Lipton—I am still confident that I shall lift the cup.

Earl of Shaftesbury—The race of yesterday wasn't a fair test.

Countess of Shaftesbury—Shamrock will do better when there is racing weather.

Lieut. Commander Ioan Takeshita, Royal Japanese navy—Bad day for racing. Wind favored Reliance. Shamrock will do better.

The Hon. Charles Russell—Wait and see what Shamrock can do in real racing weather.

Col. Neil, Royal Ulster Yacht club—Reliance was favored by the wind. Shamrock will win out.

Capt. Wringe—Shamrock will surprise the yachting world when we have the weather.

STOCK PURCHASE STOPS A DISPUTE

Charles M. Schwab Buys Max Pam's Pneumatic Tool Company Holdings.

DIFFICULTIES ARE AT AN END

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Chicago, Aug. 21.—It is stated on excellent authority that Charles M. Schwab recently purchased Max Pam's stock in the Chicago Pneumatic Tool Company and that he and C. H. Matthiesson are by far the largest individual holders in the company. The price paid for the Pam stock and that of his associates was $70 a share, from $10 to $15 over the market price at the time the sale was negotiated. The amount of the stock turned over was about 8,000 shares. Mr. Schwab is understood to have owned about twice this amount previous to this purchase.

It is understood that Mr. Schwab and Mr. Pam had differences in regard to policy after the settlement of the difficulty in the board of directors caused by the distribution of about $2,000,000 in par value of the stock. They settled on the basis of turning over to the company $125,000 each in cash, the money being deposited some time ago with the National Bank of the Republic.

Mr. Pam's resignation as general counsel is said to have been due to his subsequent differences with Mr. Schwab and the election of W. J. Calhoun, Mr. Pam's law partner, is said to have resulted largely from his friendship with Mr. Matthiesson. Mr. Calhoun is vice president of the Corn Products Company, of which Mr. Matthiesson is the president and principal stockholder.

The business of the Pneumatic Tool Company is said to have suffered somewhat on account of stocks during July, but to be better in the present month than in August of last year. The company has closed a verbal contract with the Japanese navy. The stock has been dull around 60 since the dividend was cut from 8 per cent to 7 after the trouble in the board of directors.

NEELY TALKS OF RAKE-OFFS

Clarion Senator Before Normal School Investigating Committee.

MITCHELL NOT THERE

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Clarion, Pa., Aug. 21.—Ex-Senator A. M. Neeley appeared before the normal school investigating committee today. He told some things about the alleged $2,750 rake-off in connection with the state appropriation of 1901 and there were some questions he declined to answer. He was not under oath.

Ex-Senator James G. Mitchell of Jefferson was to be present, but the committee learned that he is in California attending the G. A. R. encampment. He will be invited to appear before the investigators on September 9.

In May, 1901, Neely said that he met with James Pinks, registrar of the school; Prof. A. J. Davis, Representative J. A. P. Hoy and Trustee John S. Shirley. The matter of an appropriation was discussed. He says that when the matter of expenses was mentioned some one said that it would be taken care of.

When asked as to what he did in reference to arranging for the appropriation, Neely declined to answer, saying that his statement was published in a Philadelphia paper of August, 1902. When asked if that statement was correct or not he answered "not entirely," but declined to state in what particular it was wrong. He stated that he was never promised any money or never received any. Neely admitted he received a hurry-up letter from Senator Mitchell, and showed it to Prof. Davis and Pinks. He said Prof. Davis told him to have nothing to do with it, while Pinks told him the matter would be taken care of.

Neely said as he understood things, at Harrisburg, from rumors and observations, he believed that other schools and institutions had to pay from 10 to 15 per cent and that Grove City had to pay 25 per cent because it was not a good institution and was not entitled to an appropriation. He said that he told Representative Hoy that he believed that they could not get the appropriation without paying the rake-off, and that Hoy said that it would be all right. He also said that ex-Senator Mitchell told him that it was costing all schools from 10 to 15 per cent.

ROOT SAILED YESTERDAY.

Announced That He Would Retire from Cabinet During the Winter.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Secretary of War Elihu Root sailed for Liverpool today on the Celtic. Before sailing he declared that he would, according to his present plans, get out of the cabinet about the middle of the winter. He would not enter into any discussion of his future plans except to deny that he was going to enter actively into politics in this state.

With the secretary went Mrs. Ellihu Root and Miss Edith Root, while on the same steamer sailed Judge John M. Dickinson of Chicago, John W. Foster of Indiana, former secretary of state, and Hannis Taylor of Tennessee, former minister to Spain, who, as counselor for the United States will present her side of the dispute before the commission.

BURNED TO DEATH BY HIS OWN HAND

Washington County Boy Applied Kerosene and Match to Commit Suicide.

HAD BEEN ACCUSED OF THEFT

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Washington, Pa., Aug. 21.—Driven to distraction because accused of theft, Samuel Rosenberg, aged 20, residing in Midland No. 1, committed suicide in a horrible manner today. He saturated his clothes with kerosene and applied a match to them. He was so badly burned that he died in three hours. Thinking, however, that his attempt was not a successful one, he endeavored to jump from a second-story window, but was prevented from doing so.

Samuel Rosenberg, Sr., an uncle of the boy, operated a general store at Midland No. 1, where his nephew was employed as a clerk. Last night the elder Rosenberg missed $10 from the till. He first accused two negroes of the theft, but later ascertained that they had nothing to do with the stealing. Young Rosenberg was in the rear of the store and his uncle, it is said, accused him of having taken the money and demanded that it be returned. The boy stoutly asserted his innocence, but his uncle told him, it is alleged, that he would be arrested unless the money was forthcoming by morning.

Before going to his room for the night young Rosenberg secured a large butcher knife from the kitchen. He was seen to take the knife and was followed. When he reached his room he threw back his head and made a gash in his throat. The knife was taken from him before he had seriously injured himself. Later last night he again attempted to cut his throat and was a second time prevented.

This morning young Rosenberg secured a can of kerosene in his uncle's store. Unnoticed he went to an outbuilding and poured the contents of the can over himself, saturating his clothing from the neck to the waist. He then touched a match to his shirt. His cries of agony attracted the attention of Mrs. Vinnick, who ran to the rescue, but fainted when she saw the flames. Her daughter secured a bucket of water and poured it over the burning boy. Dr. J. C. Lyle of Houston happened to be passing. After an examination he did not think Rosenberg was fatally burned and told him so.

As soon as the doctor left the room the boy leaped from the bed and attempted to jump from a second-story window. He was caught as he was about to leap out. He suffered terrible agony for three hours and died this afternoon. Coroner Sipe will investigate the case tomorrow. Rosenberg's parents live in New York. The elder Rosenberg is prostrated.

BETTING IN WALL STREET ON THE YACHT RACES

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—(Special)—Odds on Reliance in the yacht race betting today rose from 2 to 1 to from 3 to 1 to 4 to 1. There was very little Shamrock money in the Wall street district. The betting done was generally on the question whether Shamrock would win one race, and this was at odds of 2 to 1 against.

CURTAIN DOWN FOR MR. ELLSLER

Veteran Theatrical Manager, Formerly of Pittsburgh, Is Dead.

MANY FRIENDS HERE

After Illness of but a Few Hours Father of Effie Ellsler Weston Expired in New York.

TRIBUTES TO HIS MEMORY

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Aug. 21.

After an illness lasting only a few hours, John Ellsler, the veteran theatrical manager, died today at his home, No. 479 West One Hundred and Fifty-second street, from heart disease. In the afternoon his son Henry was met on Broadway and asked about his father's health, and he answered that "he never felt better in his life." Within three hours thereafter the old gentleman was dead.

Mr. Ellsler was probably the oldest theatrical manager in the country. He was born in Harrisburg on September 26, 1821. He was particularly well known in Pittsburgh, as he was manager of the Grand Opera house there for many years. He took the management of the house during the latter part of the first season in the early seventies and held it continuously for the following 17 years. All this time he and his family were guests of the Monongahela House. During part of this time Mr. Ellsler was also manager of Library Hall, now the Bijou theater.

Partner of Jefferson.

Mr. Ellsler's first venture as a manager was with Joseph Jefferson, with whom he formed a partnership and took a company over the southern circuit in the early fifties. In 1855 he went to Cleveland, where he built the Euclid Avenue theater,

Joseph Jefferson Pays His Tribute

BUZZARDS BAY, MASS., Aug. 21.—(Special)—The death of my old friend, John Ellsler, will cause sorrow to all who knew him. He and I were partners in theatrical management through the southern states from 1859 to 1865. Our business and social relations were most agreeable. He was a sterling actor, a kind husband and loving and considerate father. His conduct through life, both as a citizen and a friend, was well known and fully appreciated by all those members of the theatrical profession who came in contact with him. The loss of "Dear Old Uncle John," as he was familiarly called, will be mourned by his family and friends.

BISON CITY IS WELL PLEASED

Roosevelt's Administration Meets Buffalo's Expectations.

ERIE COUNTY IN LINE

Memory of Grover Cleveland Is Preserved in Popular Main Street Saloon.

DEMOCRATS PREFER PARKER

From a Staff Correspondent.
[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Buffalo, Aug. 21.—Here in this busy lake city, the scene of the tragedy that placed the reins of government in the hands of Theodore Roosevelt, the people are well pleased with his administration. When he took up the responsibilities of the presidency two years ago the citizens of Buffalo began to follow closely his official acts, and today, judging from the expressions heard on every side, they are satisfied with the way in which he has fulfilled his duties and are ready to vote to retain him in the White House.

And it must not be forgotten that this is the city from whence sprang that bulwark of Democracy, the sage of Princeton. Here was the scene of his first political triumph which eventually resulted to his promotion to the head of the nation. He is not forgotten. His name endures. Tacked above the polished surface of a mahogany bar on Main street, framed about by glittering mirrors, bottles and glasses, reposes a sign about three feet long which bears in gilt letters the legend of "Ex-Cleveland." The black background is peeling off and the gilt letters are somewhat soiled, but the bartender points to it with pride and informs the thirsty patron that it is the original sign that hung over the door of Mr. Cleveland's office when he was practicing at the Erie county bar. Thus is "G. Cleveland's" memory preserved in Buffalo.

Where He Became Great.

Third-term boomers and enthusiastic editors may chase his virtues to vain to an ungrateful people, but the dry-throated patrons of this Main street bar have always before them a reminder of the man who neither was born to greatness nor achieved it, but had it thrust upon him. One by one they step up to the bar and with a "Here's to Grover," toss off a bumper, and the midsummer work goes on to the tune of the cash register bell. Scarcely any other evidences of the recent Cleveland boom is noticeable here. The people do not take it seriously and the Republican politicians have no fear of it.

There is no well-defined preference among the Democrats, so far as could be learned, but Judge Parker seems to be the choice of a great many. This choice is based upon the rather doubtful recommendation that he is quite an unknown quantity and therefore nothing derogatory can be said against him.

After talking with a large number of Democrats throughout this state I have reached the conclusion that the one point upon which they are unanimous is that

KING OF GHOULS SAW FOUL CRIME AT JOHNSTOWN

Further Confession of Rufus Cantrell at Indianapolis Reveals a Murder at Philadelphia and One at the Flood City.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Indianapolis, Aug. 21.—The first victim who ever fell prey to the operations of Rufus Cantrell, convicted of grave robbing and self-confessed murderer, was a resident of Philadelphia. His name was Maj. Wilson, who was murdered in a store near Lombard street, Cantrell declares, in August, 1897. In this murder Cantrell says that he was only an accessory after the fact.

Cantrell's account is as follows: "In July, 1897, I left Indianapolis and went to New York. I had in my possession a letter from Dr. Carl Barnes, now of Chicago, introducing me to Dr. Smith at Albany. I went to Albany and later I went also to Jersey City and to Buffalo. I operated in all those places, stealing bodies for dissecting purposes. About August, 1897, I arrived at Philadelphia. In Philadelphia I met a man whom I knew as "Faithful Tom." I also met Bill Harris, a man I had known in Indianapolis. He with two other men killed Policeman Watterson in Indianapolis six or seven years ago, and for that crime was forced to flee the city. He went to Philadelphia and I think is still there. I met Harris at a poolroom.

"'Cantrell,' he said, 'I am doing well

German-American Technologists Given Novel Entertainment.

STAGE BUILT ON THE LAWN

Play Describing Love Affair of Young German Student Was Written by Mr. Heeren—Wilmerding Airbrake Plant Visited by the Delegates.

Scientific study was abandoned for the outdoor drama last night by the delegates who are attending the convention of the German American Technological society. The visitors were entertained during the evening by William Heeren and the extensive lawn about his home in Center avenue was transformed into an ideal open-air theater. While the guests ate luncheon, consisting exclusively of the delights of the Fatherland, they enjoyed a two-act play written especially for the occasion by their host.

Mr. Heeren's comedy was up to the very minute in its timeliness. The scene of the play was laid right in Pittsburgh and the characters, except in names, were represented by some of the prominent members of the audience. A feature of the drama was that no curtain was used. The first scene represented the interior of a grill room at a hotel, and the second pictured a scene out of doors. In the first the audience faced north, and for the second act they simply shifted their chairs and faced toward the west.

"Ville Borger" was the title of the drama. A young German technologist who came to Pittsburgh wandered into the grill room and complained that he had lost his sweetheart, the girl's father arguing that the young man was too poor while her mother objected on account of the suitor's lack of piety. It developed that the student had invented a button-making machine and it was learned that "Mr. Westinghouse" was on his way to Pittsburgh and would probably take an interest in the invention.

The girl's father in the meantime heard of the machine, said, not recognizing its inventor, bought the patent rights for $50,000. This gave the student enough to marry on and at the same time seemed to settle all questions of piety. Everything, of course, ended happily. The actors mingled with the audience and showed much skill as amateurs.

Yesterday afternoon the delegates visited the Westinghouse Airbrake Company's plant at Wilmerding and took luncheon at Kennywood park. Elaborate arrangements are being made for the "Commers" which will be held in the Monongahela house tonight.

LORD SALISBURY DYING.

Former English Premier Being Kept Alive by Continual Use of Oxygen.

LONDON, Aug. 21.—All the members of Lord Salisbury's family are gathered in or within call of his bedroom at Hatfield house. The end is expected any minute.

For 24 hours he has been fighting for every breath, helped by a continual supply of oxygen. He does not suffer much pain and has only brief periods of consciousness.

Telegrams poured in all day from notable men throughout the world. Late in the afternoon King Edward telegraphed for additional information, though his majesty has been kept informed of the bulletins. There was a continual stream today of callers.

The gates of Hatfield house were closed at midnight with the announcement that there had been no change in the patient's condition. The general belief is that his lordship will last through the night.

kee has to give us such a time allowance. The best test, of course, will be when we have a gale, a good beat to windward and then a run on a broad reach home."

Adjusting his eye glasses he gazed long and earnestly at the Herreshoff boat, shoot his head, and said:

"My, but she is a beautiful boat. I never saw a livelier crew. See, they have eight men aloft, where we never send but two.

"The treatment I have received here has been marvelous. The kindness and cordiality with which I have been treated has almost overcome me. At times I am positively embarrassed. I am satisfied that no one would receive such treatment in England. The English would want to do things for visitors—be as nice and cordial as possible—but they couldn't approach you people.

Americans God's Own People.

"The Americans are God's own people. There is none like them on the face of the green earth. No people are better nor kinder nor more wonderful. They couldn't be.

"I'm very much disappointed that there was no race yesterday because it disappointed so many people from all over the earth. Still I wouldn't have seen it finished as the boats stood when it was called off. I had people from all over the world on my yacht, the finest party I ever had on my ship. Some of them came from the Pacific coast—from everywhere. There were only a dozen Britishers aboard.

"Well, tomorrow we will see again. Weather like today would suit perfectly."

While Sir Thomas was talking he was playing with a rabbit's foot mounted in gold. It was one of many presents and mascots sent him by his admirers. The Irish baronet seemed to place some faith in it. The latest additions to the mascots of the British armada are two game cocks.

"Very fine birds," said Sir Thomas, "and I'm told champions of all the world."

The birds are somewhat small, but of brilliant color and very jaunty mannered. Garry Owen and Donnybrook are the names the crew have given them, the names of two most famous fighting places in the world, perhaps. These two little fighters hopped on the rail and crowed loud and long when Shamrock III. went out for a little sail-stretching spin today.

SHAMROCK SAIL AREA SHARPLY CRITICISED

London Paper Begins to Find Fault With Sir Thomas Lipton's Designer.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Aug. 21.—The Field, commenting on the respective sail areas of the Reliance and Shamrock III., thinks it is strange that a yacht challenging for the American cup in the hope of winning, should go to the starting line with 11.5 per cent less canvas than her opponent. Everybody knows, it says, that the time scale of the New York Yacht club, like the old scale of the yacht racing association, makes length and sail area rule, is distinctly in favor of the larger boat, and an allowance of 117 seconds is but poor compensation for 11.5 per cent extra sail, if the race is likely to occur in a light wind.

All the press comment here on the Shamrock III.'s performance evidences the growing conviction that she is incapable of recapturing the America's cup under any weather conditions. The afternoon newspapers claim that yesterday's apportive race showed nothing of the respective merits of the two boats, but they admit that the performance of the challenger did not fulfill the expectations of her behavior in a light wind and say that Captain Barr seems to have shown smarter seamanship.

The suggestion is made that, in view of the repeated wind disappointments off Sandy Hook, the New York Yacht club might try to find a more satisfactory course.

ROME, Aug. 21.—The result of the first race for the America's cup was awaited here with great interest. It only became known today, because of the difference in time and the calling off was a disappointment, as considerable wagers had been made on the race in sporting circles. The duke of Abruzzi, who is considered Italy's first yachtsman, particularly followed the race closely, receiving telegrams direct from New York.

CAPT. HAFF FORECASTS VICTORY FOR RELIANCE

American Boat Excels in Reaching, Which Gives Decisive Advantage.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—The crews of Shamrock III. and Reliance were very busy today drying the sails that were wet in Tuesday's squall and straightening things up generally, so that the yachts might be in the best possible shape for today's race. Both yachts went out for short spins to stretch their canvas and try some new sails. Shamrock III. broke out a new balloon jib topsail that had just come from Ratsey's loft.

The crews of both defender and challenger are as confident of victory as they were before the yachts met in the unfinished race of Thursday; it is true that nothing was shown in that trial to shake the faith of the men in either boat.

In the first trial between Valiant and Valkyrie II., when they failed to finish within the time limit, the challenger easily outdrifted the Vigilant and was a mile in the lead at the outer mark, yet in a breeze the Vigilant proved the better boat. Again, in 1899, when Columbia and Shamrock I. started in so many unfinished races, the Irish yacht was almost invariably ahead when the time limit expired. Still Shamrock I. was no company for Columbia in a breeze sufficient to enable the yachts to go the 30 miles in 5½ hours.

So that while Reliance demonstrated Thursday that she is much faster than Shamrock III. in very light airs, it does not necessarily follow that she will have a walkover in a stiff breeze in a race to windward and back, which, I believe, is the challenger's best point of sailing.

To reaching, especially in a strong breeze, Reliance will undoubtedly prove the faster, as her long ends will be of great advantage. So, even should Shamrock prove as good as or better than the defender in races to windward and back, the latter cannot be overwhelmingly safely defend the cup, as there will probably be more reeling than any other point of sailing. It often happens that when a course is set to windward the wind hauls a point or two, making it at best a long leg, and a short one going out, with a broad reach home.

For instance, on Thursday the course was set south-southwest, when the boats started the wind was southwest, enabling the yachts to head up a point or two of the turning mark. So, had the wind held and been of sufficient strength they would have fetched within three miles of the mark on one tack and had a broad reach home.

It is to be hoped that in the next race the course will be set dead to windward and there will be a breeze strong enough to test the merits of the competing yachts.

CAPT. HANK HAFF.

RUMOR OF TROUBLE OVER MEASUREMENTS

Shamrock III. Said to Have Left Anchor and Cable Ashore in Order to Qualify.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—There was a well-defined rumor around the New York Yacht club house this evening that the members of the challenge committee of the New York Yacht club are far from satisfied with the Shamrock's waterline measurement.

When the Shamrock was measured on Tuesday in the Erie basin, she only just came within the 90-foot limit, measuring 89.91 feet. To accomplish this result it is said that even her anchor and chains were sent ashore.

It is said that Sir Thomas has been notified that this challenger must sail tomorrow with her anchor and cable on board and that she must be re-measured on Monday in the same trim as she sails tomorrow's race. This means that the Shamrock would be disqualified if she won tomorrow's race and it was found that her waterline exceeds 90 feet on Monday. In view of the fact that C. D. Mower is the official measurer of the New York Yacht club and that every move of Tuesday's measurement of the challenger was superintended by Designer Nat Herreshoff and Robert Iason, the official representative of the New York Yacht club, it seems strange that if there was any violation of the rules it was not discovered before.

HEMENWAY PLACED.

Indiana Congressman Says He Will Be Chairman of House Appropriations Committee.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 21.—(Special.)—Congressman Hemenway has just returned to his home in Warrick county from an extended conference with Congressman Cannon in the east, and reports that he will be the next chairman of the house appropriations committee. He said that no other member of the committee has been chosen, and he would not say what names had been discussed.

Mr. Hemenway says Mr. Cannon has practically selected all the chairmen of committees and that the policies of the party in the next house have been discussed.

In respect to appropriations he said that the committee would be frugal but not stingy in dealing with the government, and intimated that the large appropriations of the last session would not be repeated unless some unforeseen exigency should arise.

GERMANY COVETS AMERICAN CUP

Kaiser and Others Consider Advisability of Issuing a Challenge.

CONFIDENT THEY CAN WIN IT

Competition Is Open to All Countries. There Will Always Be a Boat Competent and Ready to Defend It—Possibility Causes Comment.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—It is not impossible that the next race for the America's cup will be for the United States and some other country than Great Britain if Sir Thomas Lipton fails to lift the mug this time. Not alone has Lieutenant-Commander Ioan Takeshira of the Imperial Japanese navy announced his intention of looking over the merits of the yacht clubs to take a hand in the game and send a cup hunter over after the "blue ribbon of the seas," but it is said in yachting circles that prominent Germans yesterday had under consideration a plan under advisement to try to take the priceless piece of silver to the Vaterland, and have the great international yachting event sailed at Kiel instead of at Sandy Hook. A German yachtsman who is here watching the races, said today:

"If Shamrock III. fails to lift the cup it will be pretty conclusive evidence that Great Britain cannot build a yacht that will, because it is generally acknowledged that she is the limit for British designers. It will require a desperate German to take up the gauntlet. In the building of fast steamers our ship yards are indisputably in the lead and I believe that in the designing, building and sailing of cup yachts, we may show the same superiority. It is quite to say that the event of the cup remaining here Germany will before long challenge for it. Some of our best yachtsmen, including the kaiser, who you know is an enthusiast, have the matter in mind."

"Inasmuch as the cup is an international trophy," said a leading member of the New York Yacht club today, "there is no earthly reason why Japan, Germany, France, Italy, Scandinavia or any other country should not have a try for it. They will always find a boat competent and ready to defend it, and if they are able to build a better, why, they can take it. In my judgment, however, it will be a long time before any of them will be able to send over a boat which can outsail a Yankee cup yacht."

The proposed challenger from other than British yacht clubs has caused a good deal of talk among yachtsmen.

KING OF GHOULS SAW FOUL CRIME

here; we are cleaning up in everything we go after."

"Harris proposed that I assist him that night. I agreed to watch. We went along Lombard street and turned off. I am not sure just where. I stood on a corner and watched to see that no police came along. Harris and 'Faithful' did the work. Pretty soon they came running past me. They pitched some money and said to hustle away fast. I overtook 'Faithful Tom' and we both walked instead of ran. I never saw Harris again.

"Tom and I went to Thirty-fifth street and the Pennsylvania tracks and sat down near a sort of bridge or railroad trestle. While we were sitting there a mounted policeman and sergeant came along and asked us what we were doing there. We replied that we were only waiting for some girls. He said a man had been murdered and that the police were looking for some negroes that did the work. He said if we remained around there we would be arrested. That was the first I knew a murder had been committed, but I knew at once from the way Tom acted that we were the ones the police were looking for.

"I told Tom he could do what he pleased, but that I intended to get out. I caught a freight train and went to Altoona. Then I went to Johnstown. I staid at this place one night, and while I was there was still afraid the police might get me. I was sitting at dark near a mine entrance, at least I think it must have been a mine, beside a railroad track, when two men came along. One was older than the other and I took them to be father and son. The older man threatened the younger, saying something about getting 'that money or killing.' Then there was a word or two, a scuffle, and the older fellow hit the younger man over the head. I saw it all. He took the body and laid it on the track and a minute or so later a train struck it. I saw all this, and I saw, too, how easy it was to cover up crime and escape the police. The next morning the Johnstown papers told of the finding of the young man's body, where it had been struck by the train.

"I left Johnstown and went back to Indianapolis, ready for anything; no longer afraid of detection. I saw how easy it would be for a grave robber to fill bodies without the trouble of digging for them, so I deliberately selected this means for supplying the colleges that bought from me."

Order for Pork and Beans was Signal for Restaurant Riot

"Pork and" said John Manyon, a young South Side railroader, in ordering his supper in a Carson street restaurant last night. Presently the pretty waitress came along with a steaming dish of bacon and beans. A thought struck Manyon, and he whispered something to the girl. She evidently did not like it, and gave him a "cuff."

Manyon in a loud voice began to make remarks. He continued to air his views, and the waitress dropped the pork and beans and cried "Police!"

Things were looking unpleasant all around when Policeman M. McConnor appeared and found tableware and furniture flying about in dangerous fashion. A cream mug struck him in the face and a chair was broken over his head. Patrol wagon No. 7 was called and after a bloody resistance Manyon was hauled off to the police station and locked up in the dungeon. Policeman James Pemberton, who assisted in the arrest, asserts that Manyon tried to stab him with a case knife. Manyon lives at No. 158 South Eleventh street.

some one must be found for a candidate whose record will bear scrutiny, a man against whom nothing can be said. If such a man can be found in the Democratic party he is pretty sure of having the backing of the New York state delegation in the convention.

Erie county and the city of Buffalo are both very close in election. Republican and Democratic administrations alternate by reason of local conditions, but in national and state elections the Republicans usually carry the county. Odell got it last year by a little over 800. The opinion of all the Republicans consulted on the question is that Roosevelt will carry Erie county easily next year.

"There isn't the slightest doubt that Mr. Roosevelt will carry Erie county in 1904," said Postmaster Fred Grüner, "nor is there any doubt about his carrying the state, in my opinion. Instead of losing ground I think that Roosevelt is more popular now than he was a year ago. People up in this end of the state have no idea that he will not be able to carry New York. You don't hear Democrats making any such prediction around here. Everybody is busy, the country is prosperous, and why shouldn't Roosevelt be elected next year?"

"What do you think of the Cleveland boom?" he was asked.

"Nothing in it; nothing at all," he replied curtly, was a personal friend of Mr. Cleveland, and liked him very much, but the people do not want him for president again. This third term idea puts him out of the race. Now there's Hill, who might get the Democratic nomination, and he would make a good run up in this end of the State. But Parker seems to be the most likely candidate for the Democrats. Nobody knows anything about him at home and for that reason he might run better than some of the Democrats who are too well known.

No New Democratic Leaders.

"I consider it a rather remarkable fact that in the six years and more that the Democratic party has been out of power in the nation no new man has risen to prominence in the party. They have no new leaders; only the same old timbers, but I think there is no man that they can nominate who can take the New York state away from Roosevelt."

Ansley Wilcox, a prominent attorney of this city, is a loyal personal friend of President Roosevelt. It was in Mr. Wilcox's house that Mr. Roosevelt took the oath of office as president after the death of President McKinley. When Mr. Wilcox was asked for his opinion as to the president's prospects of carrying New York state next year he declined to give an expression for publication on the ground that what he said would be considered as prejudiced because of his personal friendship with the president. But from other sources it was learned that Mr. Wilcox believes that Roosevelt can carry the state against any candidate the Democrats are able to nominate. He has expressed to some of his friends the belief that there is no danger whatever of Roosevelt losing his own state. When asked for his opinion as to Judge Parker as a candidate, Mr. Wilcox also declined to give it, saying that he and the judge were good friends and that he did not care to discuss the judge as a presidential possibility.

The editor of a Democratic newspaper, who for obvious reasons did not want his name or the paper's used, said:

"To be frank with you, there is nothing up in this end of the state to indicate that Roosevelt is unpopular or that he will get a small vote. Our hope is in Judge Parker. If the Democratic convention nominates him, he may be able to carry the state. When he was elected chief justice his plurality was over 60,000, but whether he could do that well as a presidential candidate remains to be seen.

People talked with in the hotel lobbies and on the streets expressed surprise that any question should be raised as to Roosevelt's ability to carry this state in 1904. It is no exaggeration to say that the majority of them, regardless of party affiliations, consider it as a matter of course that he will be the next president.

He is the people's choice and they regard him as the man of the hour and the champion of the people's rights. Meanwhile the blistering and time-stained "G. Cleveland" sign still hangs over the main street bar.

Workmen Buried in Landslide.

While excavating for the new brewery at McKeesport yesterday a gang of workmen were buried under several tons of earth. Almost fifteen feet of heavy clay and gravel fell in on them. It is thought he is not internally. The men were at work in a deep hole when the earth suddenly gave down, burying them. It will be almost impossible to get them out alive. Physicians are summoned by a tunnel to dig down to the bank under which the men were at work.

CURTAIN DOWN FOR MR. ELLSLER

and also managed the Academy of Music. He was also at one time manager of the old Woods theater in Cincinnati, and during the war he managed the Athenæum theater at Columbus.

While he was in Pittsburgh Mr. Ellsler became manager for John McCullough, the tragedian. He also managed Maggie Mitchell a tours for several years, and he brought Clara Morris and Joseph Howarth prominently before the public.

His daughter, Effie Ellsler, was the original Hazel Kirke in the play of that name.

Mr. Ellsler is survived by a widow, two daughters, Effie and Annie May Ellsler, and three sons, John, William and Harry. The last named was his father's personal representative at the Grand Opera house at Pittsburgh, and is now connected with the New York Railway and Steamship Time Table Company.

Mr. Ellsler was a thirty-second degree Mason, a member of the Scottish Rite Order and the Alkorai Temple, Mystic Shrine.

The remains will be taken to Cleveland, the funeral taking place next Sunday. The interment will be in the Lake View cemetery, Cleveland, in the family vault, which is almost under the shadow of the Garfield monument.

"In the death today of John Ellsler the American stage loses a strong friend and a man who has done much for it."

This is what Miss Clara Morris, the noted actress, said today when told of the death of Mr. Ellsler at his home in this city after a short illness from heart disease. "Mr. Ellsler," continued Miss Morris, "had been actively in the theatrical business since 1849, up to the time of his retirement in 1896. The number of actors, who afterward attained prominence, who were assisted when they were struggling for recognition will perhaps never be known. For one, I owe much of my success to his kindliness and help when I was an unknown young actress in Cleveland."

Was Popular in Pittsburgh.

The announcement of the death of John Ellsler brings regret to many of Pittsburgh's older residents, who remember him both as a manager of Pittsburgh theaters and as an actor of no mean ability himself. Both in the professional and among theatergoers he was one of the most popular men ever connected with the stage in this city. Mr. Ellsler came to Pittsburgh from Cleveland in 1873 and was here for about 18 years, most of the time as manager of the old Grand Opera house," said H. M. Gulick of the Bijou last evening. "From 1870 to 1875 he associated with himself in the management of the Grand an actor named Combs. After five years of partnership Combs took the management of old Library Hall. Ellsler remained with the Grand until 1887 when he lost his lease through failure to earn the expenses of the place. He later went out with 'Aladdin,' a spectacular show, and took a part in that play himself, but after two years it was sold and he retired from active management.

"Mr. Ellsler was one of the best-hearted men I have ever known. In fact, he was too generous to be much of a success in business."

John Gallagher, stage carpenter at the Grand Opera house, also well remembers the dead manager. "He was a natural leader among men, and he knew the theatrical business from one end to the other," he said yesterday. "As an actor he was a success. He supported such men as Joseph Jefferson, Edwin Booth, Barrett, McCullough and Edwin Adams. He brought out Clara Morris and James Lewis. He was the first manager to appreciate the genius of Clara Morris."

TWO VICTIMS OF THE RAILROADS

Young Man Met Death While at Work—Trolley Car Killed Child.

MANY CASES FOR CORONER

Third Victim of the Falling Scaffold at New Home Building—Child's Upsetting Hot Soup on Itself Resulted Fatally.

Harry D. Bowman, aged 22, a brakeman employed by the Pennsylvania railroad, was killed by a dinkey engine and eight small cars used to haul dirt on the Brilliant cut-off jumping the track at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, and plunging down a steep hillside. The engine and train would probably have gone to Beechwood boulevard below but for a big tree which stopped their progress. Bowman was standing in the middle of the train between two cars and he was badly crushed, dying in a few minutes. James Wilson, the engineer, saved himself by jumping. The dead man's home was at No. 1804 Cherry street, Harrisburg, and he boarded at No. 6730 Rowan avenue, this city.

Daniel Rowland, 25 years old and single, was run over and killed by a dinky engine in the yards of the Homestead steel works last night. He was employed as a brakeman.

John Burg, aged 4 years, of No. 1627 Windsor street, Allegheny, was killed yesterday afternoon by car No. 1693 of the Rebecca street line. The child was playing near the corner of Rebecca and Walker streets and did not notice the approach of the car.

Charles Hartzell, a negro, of No. 94 Elm street, who was badly injured by a fall-ing scaffold at the Joseph Horne building at Penn avenue and Cecil alley, on Monday night, died at the Homeopathic hospital at 7:35 o'clock last night as a result of his injuries, making the third victim of the accident. Hartzell was the only one who was on the scaffold at the time who was hurt. He had a compound fracture of both legs. Death was due to the shock. Hartzell was 27 years old, single, and came from Hartford, Conn., about four months ago and secured work there at the carpenter trade. A number who had the contract for the work of the men were doing on the Horne building.

Peter Costello, aged 27 years, of No. 128 Grace street, a steam fitter employed by the Equitable Meter Company, No. 225 Fifth avenue, was struck on the head by a heavy steel casting while at work yesterday and was instantly killed.

Mary Thompson, a 2-year-old colored girl of Oak station, Baldwin township, died at her home yesterday of congestion. The child had been at the Children's hospital in Forbes street, but was taken away about a week ago by her parents.

Martha Bennett, 2 years old, died at the West Penn hospital yesterday morning from scalds received by upsetting a pan of hot soup on herself on Wednesday at her home, No. 1815 Center avenue.

John C. Slavens, 72 years old, a farmer of Dempseytown road, Ross township, while driving home in East street, Allegheny, was thrown from his wagon by the wagon coming to a sudden stop. Heart disease is thought to have caused death.

Mrs. Maiitte Mitchell, 45 years old, was found dead in bed at her home, No. 1005 Penn avenue, yesterday morning. Heart trouble is given as the cause of her death.

HUNTING FOR AN OLD SOLDIER

Allegheny Republicans Are Willing to Support a Northside Veteran for Sheriff.

THEY PREFER THAT OFFICE

Do Not Care to Name District Attorney. Bigelow Is Said to Be Considering Robert T. McElroy as Fusion Nominee for Sheriff.

Allegheny's Republican leaders are hunting an old soldier resident of that city to support for sheriff. If an acceptable man can be found the entire North Side organization will turn in for him. It is generally agreed that one place on the Republican ticket shall go to Allegheny city. Party men in all sections of the county agree that the North Side should furnish one of the candidates. Senator C. A. Muehlbronner said yesterday that the Allegheny Republicans preferred the clerkship, and had decided to make an effort to secure the nomination for one of their number. Believing that the nominee for this office should be an old soldier effort is being made to find a veteran who will be acceptable in every way. Several of the North Side leaders were devoting their time yesterday to interviewing old soldiers. There are a number of veterans who it is thought would make good candidates.

District Attorney Nominee.

The decision of the North Side Republicans to make a fight for the shrievalty nomination means that Pittsburgh will furnish the nominee for district attorney. Many names are being discussed, but there will probably be a number mentioned who will not go into the contest. The only Pittsburgners so far who have any delegates in the field are L. B. Cook and W. A. Blakeley. The former is an avowed candidate, and the latter has not decided what he will do. There will no doubt be several others in the race within a few days. There is every indication that there will be a hot contest for the nomination.

Major J. B. Hamilton of Elizabeth, continues to have a clear field for prothonotary. He has delegates up in nearly all of the districts of the county and has been making an active campaign for the office for at least a year. No other Republican has been talked of for the office, and the man who would now try to wrest the nomination from the major would have a mighty task to perform. He is especially strong in the Sixth district.

Some Talk of McElroy.

There is a disposition in some quarters to talk Attorney Robert T. McElroy of the Twentieth ward, as the Bigelow candidate for sheriff. It is known that the Citizens boss has mentioned him as a possibility. McElroy now has two fusion bricks to his credit. He hoped to be named county solicitor, but the place, under a bargain with the Democrats, went to Thomas B. Alevin. McElroy next endeavored to secure one of the assistant city solicitorships, but failed to land the plum. He has been active in all the fusion fights in the last campaign he was at the head of the Irish-American league.

McElroy's name will no doubt be discussed in the conference of slate makers at Vernar's Lakewood (N. Y.) cottage Sunday afternoon. Bigelow and Hays go to Lakewood today to spend Sunday with Verner. They expect to select a candidate for sheriff before they return.

Effort is being made to get George W. Guthrie for fusion ticket. His brother, R. W. Guthrie, is inclined to favor Goehring, and on the strength of this the support of George W. Guthrie for the fusion ticket is being predicted. Mr. Guthrie was not for Hays in February, and his friends cannot see what would induce him to hitch up with the bogus reformer now.

FLINTS' SCALE SETTLED.

All Departments Have Signed Wage Agreements for Coming Year.

The remaining three branches of the flint glass trade have settled their wage differences with the manufacturers, and scales have been signed for the coming year. The scales cover the iron mold, cutting and engraving departments. Settlements in the cutting and engraving departments were made on the basis of the wages of last year. In the mold department the manufacturers asked that the limit be removed in open bowls owing to non-union competition, and this concession was granted. Last year's scale was then renewed, with slight increases for certain designs.

City Will Sell Lots.

From the number of inquiries he has received relative to some small lots of ground that the city owns, Controller Larkin has concluded that it would be well to sell the lots. If purchasers will pay the price. The city has from time to time bought at sheriff's sale lots on which the owners did not pay the taxes, the city getting the amount of the tax lien, without paying any cash. Usually such property is not worth much, but with increases in the values of real estate the lots owned by the city have come into demand. The controller has decided to advertise for bids on the lots.

BRADSHAW FAMILY HELD REUNION OF RELATIVES

Descendants of Early Settlers of the Monongahela Valley Gathered in Large Numbers at Wilson. Permanent Organization Formed.

The descendants of William and Agnes Bradshaw gathered at the old Bradshaw homestead in Wilson, Allegheny county, yesterday and celebrated in the usual manner the Bradshaw family reunion, which is held each year at the old farm on August 21. The oldest of the Bradshaws is Robert W. Bradshaw, aged 83 years, and the only living child of William and Agnes Bradshaw.

The American branch of the Bradshaw family traces its beginning back to the landing at Baltimore in 1706 of William Bradshaw from county Down, Ireland. After a brief stay in Baltimore he removed to Rostraver township in Westmoreland county, being among the first young men to push into the then western wilderness. In 1825 with his family he settled on the banks of the Monongahela river and was one of the pioneers in clearing that region of forests and wild animals. Where he settled in 1825 is still the family homestead, although the farm has dwindled to a few acres, the remainder having been sold to the United States Steel Corporation.

Robert W. Bradshaw is still an active man at 83. He took great pride yesterday in pointing out places where he had had many interesting experiences in his younger days when the country was wild. The orchard which shades the 300 descendants while they ate was planted by his own hands when a boy. Mr. Bradshaw has five sons, four daughters and eight grand-children living. He did considerable river business many years ago in boating hay and coal to the down-river markets.

The old Bradshaw homestead, which was built by William Bradshaw, Robert's father, was of logs, and up to a short time ago sheltered the descendants, as it did their parents in the early '80s.

The family began to gather several days ago and all those living in Western Pennsylvania were there yesterday at the annual feast in the old orchard. The married and single men played a game of ball and the rest of the day was spent in renewing their relations.

A permanent organization was formed, and the reunion will be held each year at the old homestead on August 21. John

Robert W. Bradshaw.

Eard of Boston, Pa., a nephew of Robert Bradshaw, presided at the afternoon festivities.

Reunion of Wallace Family.

The fifth annual reunion of the Wallace family was held yesterday at the home of James Wallace at Oakdale. There were over 100 members of the family present, representing four generations. The history of the family extends back to Scotch-Irish ancestry. Lyde Wallace of Oakdale is secretary of the family association.

NO ALUM WATER FOR E. M. BIGELOW

Director Is Considering Sand Filtration Only in Making Calculations.

TO INSPECT CAPITAL PLANS

He and Two Engineers Will Spend Three Days in Washington—Public Works Chief Explains Why Bellevue and River Crib Systems Will Not Do.

The councilmanic committee on filtration has not yet been asked to meet Director E. M. Bigelow in conference, and it is possible that the committee and the director will not meet until shortly before the regular session of councils on September 15. The committee was directed to aid the director in preparing plans and estimates for a filtration plant to supply the entire city with water, but if Mr. Bigelow keeps up his trips investigating municipal filters already in operation he will be pretty well informed on the subject and can probably give the committee some points.

Yesterday The Gazette told of the director's visit to the filtration plants of four cities. Tomorrow night he will go to Washington, D. C., to investigate the contract that city has just entered into for the building of a large filtration plant of a daily capacity of 90,000,000 gallons of water. The plant will cost $2,500,000. The director will be accompanied by A. B. Shepherd, superintendent of the bureau of water supply and distribution, and Maurice Knowles, who was the engineer in charge of the filtration estimates during the director's former term in office. They will return on Wednesday.

Doubt as to Settling Basins.

The director has been informed, but he does not know, whether it is a fact, that the Washington filtration system does not contemplate the use of settling basins. As settling basins will constitute a large part of the cost of the Pittsburgh plant under the present plans, the director realizes that if they are not required the estimates on a plant for Pittsburgh will be more likely kept within the limit of the money available from the filtration bond issue. The old plans did not consider the cost of supplying the South Side with filtered water, while the new plans will include the South Side. The money that would go into settling basins under the old plans would defray a large part of the cost of supplying filtered water to the South Side. As the system recommended by the filtration commission intended settling basins the director is curious to know how Washington is able to do without them. It may be that there is more silt in the Allegheny river than there is in the Potomac, so that without settling basins for the Pittsburgh filtration system the filter beds may not work satisfactorily.

Not Considering Mechanical System.

According to the statement made by the director yesterday, it would seem that those who feared he would favor delay in securing filtered water by recommending that mechanical filter systems be investigated need not be alarmed. Mr. Bigelow was asked if he thought the councilmanic committee would take up other systems. He said he did not believe it would. He added that his department would make every effort to have the estimates ready for councils at the first meeting, and to furnish information covering every phase of the subject.

Director Bigelow does not think well of the plan of obtaining water from bored wells, as at Bellevue, by getting water from the bottom of the river by the crib plan. Theoretically, the plan is all right, he said, but the fact that from a certain number of wells 2,000,000 gallons could be pumped, as at Bellevue, did not mean that the enormous quantity required for Pittsburgh could be obtained in the same way. Increasing the number of wells, said the director, would not necessarily increase the quantity of water in the same proportion. It is possible to pump the water faster than it would come in through the ground.

I. C. B. U. CONVENTION ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Convention in This City Ends. Several Interesting Reports Were Made.

After a lengthy session the Irish Catholic Benevolent union yesterday closed its annual convention, electing and installing new officers and selecting Providence, R. I., for next year's convention. During the day there was much discussion of the Catholic Indian missions, and steps were taken toward establishing a fund for work among the western tribes. Resolutions were passed thanking Coadjutor Bishop Canevin, the city of Pittsburgh and the press for kindness shown the delegates, and after expressing sorrow for the death of Pope Leo XIII., a cable message of congratulation was sent to Pope Pius X.

The Rev. Father Donze of Baltimore said that the Drexel estate in Philadelphia gave $250,000 a year to the church through the income of Mother Catherine, who was a Miss Drexel and an heiress to the vast estates upon entering the convent, and that at her death the money would revert back to the co-heirs. The money she gave has been used in educating Catholic Indian children and it was suggested that a fund should be established to carry on the work. Of the 250,000 Indians in the United States, 106,000 are said to be Catholics.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Daniel Duffy, Pottsville, Pa. (re-elected); first vice president, M. B. Donnelly, Pittsburgh; second vice president, Miss Margaret Marks, Pittsburgh; secretary, John E. Dairs, Philadelphia (re-elected); treasurer, Thomas J. Foley, Gloucester, N. J. (re-elected); executive committee, J. J. Barrett, Providence, R. I.; W. B. Conway, Latrobe, Pa.; Miss B. C. Dabbs, Toledo, O.

Circus Performer Sent to Jail.

Simon Hartle, who was arrested Thursday on suspicion of having been implicated in the Oakland flat robberies, was yesterday morning given a hearing before Magistrate Joseph H. Vitchestain, and fined $5 and costs or 10 days in jail, so that he can be held until the robberies can be thoroughly investigated. Superintendent of Police John P. McTighe says he does not believe the man had any hand in the robbery. Hartle told the superintendent he was a circus performer and that while in Europe was connected with the Buffalo Bill show.

SMALLPOX ON THE NORTH SIDE

An Alarming Condition of Affairs Brought About in the Charles Street District.

MRS. HOSMER GIVEN HEARING

Health Officials Say Over a Score of Cases Are Traceable to the Unreported One of May Hall—North Side Pesthouse Moved.

In connection with the hearing Mrs. Birdie Hosmer of Ellsworth avenue, East End, had before Magistrate David McKelvey of Allegheny yesterday, it developed that an appalling condition of affairs exists in the Charles street district of Allegheny. Smallpox has broken out there to such an extent that it nearly approaches the epidemic stage.

Mrs. Hosmer was arrested on information made by Superintendent James McLaughlin of the Allegheny bureau of health, charged with attending a case of smallpox without reporting it to the health authorities. May Hall, the girl Mrs. Hosmer is alleged to have attended, died of smallpox on August 6, after being ill for more than a week.

The case was not reported until the day the girl died. Dr. D. I. Jamison, city physician, testified that he had been called to attend the girl on August 6 and found her in a comatose condition. The eruptions on her body, he said, indicated that she had suffered from the disease for at least a week. Mrs. Hosmer was represented by Attorney A. H. Mercer. Magistrate McKelvy will render his decision September 2.

Can Trace Over a Score of Cases.

Maj. McLaughlin testified that from 25 to 30 cases of the disease could be traced to this one. As there was no quarantine on the Hall house, at No. 145 Charles street, neighbors and friends came and went in and out of the place, carrying the scourge to all parts of the neighborhood. Supt. McLaughlin admitted that there now are 48 cases of smallpox in the Charles street district. Later yesterday four more were reported, making a total of 52.

Residents of Pleasant Valley, in the vicinity of the affected district, have become alarmed, and many are moving away. During the last few days it has been rumored that the health authorities would quarantine the entire district, and this has kept many whose work demands their presence in other parts of the city or in Pittsburgh, away from home. The possibility of being forced to remain in their houses for 15 days at least frightened many of the families that have left. In this manner, it is said, the disease is likely to be carried throughout the two cities and suburbs.

Superintendent McLaughlin does not contemplate putting the entire district under quarantine, but will enforce a rigid and complete isolation of all the cases from existing. By this means he intends to check any further spread.

Vigorous Quarantine Work.

An extra force of quarantine officers has been put on and all day yesterday five city physicians worked throughout the affected district, vaccinating hundreds of persons. They went from house to house and put the quill on every person who had not been recently vaccinated. This will be continued today and with other precautions Superintendent McLaughlin says the disease will scarcely spread further.

The Allegheny Municipal hospital on Nunnery hill was moved about 80 feet yesterday to the new annex recently erected. No smallpox or other patients were in the building when the removal was made.

Amalgamation May Open Many Mills.

The continued idleness of many union plants of the American Sheet Steel Company may result in the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers declaring the non-union mills open. The Sheet Steel Company operates 98 non-union mills and 66 union mills. It is expected that a meeting of the advisory board of the workmen will be called to settle the question.

Sad Case of a Girl in Allegheny.

Alderman Samuel Abernathy yesterday afternoon sent Charles Smith and Lucy Smith, his wife, both colored, of Kilbuck street, Allegheny, to jail for court, charged with harboring a minor child, Garfield Butler, also colored, of Kilbuck street, Allegheny, was sent to jail charged with assaulting the child, who is only 13 years old.

WILL NOT WORK GLASS PLANTS

Secretary of Federation Company Says Factories Will Not Open This Fire.

NO PROFIT IN WINDOW GLASS

Wages Too High and Prices Too Low Cause the State of Depression—Jobbers Are Buying Direct and Association's Efforts Are Futile.

"A period of depression is what the window glass trade needs," said W. L. Munro, secretary of the Federation Window Glass Company, who returned from the Columbus headquarters of that company last night. The outlook, he said was never more discouraging, and from present indications none of the factories will be operated this fire. The American Window Glass Company," he said, "would make glass by machinery, but would not open plants not equipped with the automatic machines.

"What is the use of running the plants," he continued, "if glass is being sold at a figure less than that at which it can be manufactured."

"Will a boost in prices help the condition?" was asked.

"Not in the least," he replied. "It is exactly like a sick man. The window glass industry is sick, and it simply has to lay off for a while. The Federation has been selling to jobbers direct and this policy will be kept up. No, I don't know that the Window Glass Jobbers' association is in session in New York. The last allotment sold that association was last December and the contract expired in March. I don't think they'll get any more very soon.

"The independent manufacturers have been working two-pot glass, and with the increased wages it will be impossible to operate the plants at a profit. As far as I know few of them will be opened. I cannot speak for the Independent and the American companies, but I believe they will not be so foolish as to make glass when they cannot sell it for more than it costs to make it. Stocks are becoming very low, and I do not know where more glass is to come from, unless the American Window Glass Company makes it by machinery."

The Federation Window Glass Company recently issued a circular letter to the trade in which it asked for stiffer prices. President Johnson, of that company, said in the letter that if prices were not maintained it would result disastrously.

Taking Care Of a Piano

If a piano is worth having it is worth the attention necessary to keep it in good condition. For want of tuning, cleaning or some slight repairs a really good instrument may become only a source of mortification. By means of polishing, varnishing or case refinishing it may be made to become shabby may, at a trifling cost be made as handsome as when it was new. This is the best time to have such work done, because the fall music lessons will soon begin, and we can now execute all orders promptly.

Five Hour Notes of Today.

Notwithstanding we close at 1 p. m. today there will be plenty of time for people who are interested to get a great many personal belongings for reduced prices, as well as many new goods for less prices than they really should be sold for. But this is a store of less prices always.

PLENTY of time to look over those Yacht Handkerchiefs for men and women—a novelty. Women's, 10c each; Men's, 2 for 25c. Plain white handkerchief with a fine picture of either Shamrock III. or Reliance in action—looks like a steel engraving.

PLENTY of time for women to buy fine Oxfords, which we are now selling for nearly half price. Different leathers, about all sizes and widths, and all we ask you to pay is $1.75 for a regular $3 grade of Oxfords. You'll never have a better opportunity.

MORE than enough time for women to buy $3, $4 and $5 Parasols for $1.75 each. There are but 25 of these parasols and a little speed will be necessary. Black and white polka dots, black and white stripes, red and white, plain red and checks.

PLENTY of time to buy all-wool Blankets for reduced prices, and plenty of them for you. We bought largely. 55c a pair for 75c cotton fleeced Blankets; $2.50 a pair for $3.25 all-wool Blankets; 2½ size; $2.95 for $4.50 full size. Other like reductions.

The Half-Price Sale of Wool Waistings.

We regret exceedingly that these Waistings—a 75c value advertised in yesterday morning's Gazette for 38c a yard—were not represented in the variety we had intended. The facts are these: Upon representation that the entire invoice would be in by express early yesterday morning, we gave out the news, and it was unfortunate. By an error of our New York office the waistings were shipped in a roundabout way. They will not be here until this morning some time, say 9 or 10. Between the hour of arrival and our closing hour there will be quite a little time to examine them. We say confidently there was never such another value offered as these Finest Wool Waistings for 38c a yard. An excellent color range.

WOMEN TOOK A HAND IN M'KEESPORT STRIKE

Brooms Used by Boardinghouse Keepers—Strike-Breakers Had a Keg of Beer, Which Started the Trouble.

Women with brooms and strike-breakers with a keg of beer made things lively for a time yesterday in Thirteenth street, McKeesport. During the melee the presence of policemen was ignored by the participants, and several men and women were given a severe drubbing.

The trouble was started by a clash between strikers and a crowd of men who have taken their places in the mills. The strike-breakers had a keg of beer in their possession when they arrived on the McKeesport side of the Thirteenth street bridge. They were met by the strikers and a fight followed, during which the strike-breakers are alleged to have pulled revolvers and began firing. The shooting attracted a number of women who conduct boarding houses in the vicinity of Thirteenth street at which strikers and strike-breakers board.

Several women ran up the street on hearing the shots and one, sighting an enemy, went after her with a broom. From doorways came other women, and soon there was a lively mixup of women, men and brooms. It is alleged a Mrs. Scott, keeper of a boarding house for strike-breakers was chased by the other women until she fell exhausted. No arrests were made.

The cases of the men arrested during the riot on Thursday were heard yesterday by Acting Mayor L. N. Morgan in the McKeesport police court. When the officers who made the arrest were called upon to testify against the prisoners there was a difference of opinion, and an open fight was narrowly averted in the police court. Frank Lafferty was fined $20 and G. W. Clayton and Frank Glaze were each fined $5. Policeman Maund, who, it is said, is a brother of one of the strikers, refused to testify against the men.

William Iles, who is said to be a striking tin plate worker, was arrested on a warrant last night by Constable Jacob Stine in Port Vue, near McKeesport. Iles is charged with shooting and disorderly conduct. Strikers claim the man arrested is not Iles, but William Glaze, and that he was illegally arrested.

The citizens of Bellevue are having practical experience of the saving made by water meters, although the company fixes a minimum of $8. In Cleveland the minimum is $2 50 a year. The minimum rate charged in Bellevue covers a consumption of 40,000 gallons a year, which is plenty for the average household, so that Bellevue consumers get for $8 a year what costs many Pittsburgh consumers over $30 a year. Although the service is not fully metered the Bellevue Water Company has a demand for about 100 gallons per day per capita as against a present rate in Pittsburgh of 251 gallons per capita.

Secretary of War Elihu Root has sailed for England to take part in the adjudication of the Alaskan boundary. Incidentally he has announced that he will retire from the cabinet about the middle of next winter. Beyond that he declines to disclose his plans. Mr. Root has made an excellent record in the cabinet in the administration of war department affairs at home and abroad. It may be true he has the honorable ambition to succeed Benjamin B. Odell as governor of New York. If so, we wish him success. He has demonstrated the quality and capacity to make a good governor of the Empire state.

The outbreak of smallpox in the Pleasant valley district of Allegheny is not at all creditable to the health department of that city, and unless very energetic measures are taken to stamp out the disease the consequences will be extremely serious. The outbreak is traceable to one case which was not reported until the patient was in a dying condition, and now the contagion is being widely diffused. The effective precautionary measure is well known—vaccinate, vaccinate, vaccinate. This with strict quarantine of patients will stamp out the disease, but neglect or carelessness may give the disease a terrible spread, as it is highly contagious and easily propagated.

Director Edward M. Bigelow has, apparently, taken hold of the filtration matter in earnest and is prosecuting a vigorous investigation into the latest developments in construction. He has taken the correct view, that it is not worth while wasting time or energy on mechanical filters, but is giving his attention to sand filtration and the cost of the most modern work. This activity should produce results. Though it may not be found that settling basins can be dispensed with, it is very certainly demonstrable that a complete plant can be constructed on an interest and sinking fund cost that is materially less than the annual expense to the community of preventable typhoid fever. Moreover, pure water is wholesome to a degree that exercises some influence upon other diseases, and it is worth something to have clear, soft water for culinary and other household uses.

A report comes from Berlin depicting cavalier treatment for the American and Mexican monetary commission at the hands of the Russian minister of finance, M. De Witte. That account should not be taken without the proverbial grain of salt. The monetary commission has nothing to do with the Chinese war indemnity, or the basis upon which it shall be paid. It is simply asking the opinion of foreign administrations as to the proper ratio that might be established between gold and silver to facilitate exchanges between gold standard and silver standard countries. M. De Witte has no ground for the exhibition of anger over such a harmless question. It is almost unbelievable that he should curtly dismiss the commissioners of the United States and Mexico in the manner reported, and if he has done so he is a churl. The alleged incident does not accord with the finance minister's reputation as a gentleman and broad-minded man of affairs.

Now that Russia has presented categorical demands upon Turkey Austria is following suit. The Oriental railway is operated by an Austrian syndicate, which naturally claims the support of the Austrian government. The Greeks in Macedonia are also clamoring for protection, but Greece is not strong enough to exert much influence with the Turkish government. The situation is causing great uneasiness throughout Europe, as it abounds with complications that might easily bring on war in Europe. For that very reason every possible effort will be made to keep the situation under diplomatic control and the negotiations now going on among the powers will probably result in some measure for subjecting Macedonia to police control strong enough to restore and maintain order. The situation was as bad in Bosnia when that was under Turkish control, but since the country has been placed under Austrian jurisdiction it has become perfectly orderly, Christians and Moslems living peaceably together.

The first contest between the Reliance and Shamrock III., while it did not result in a race, showed such qualities of speed in the cup defender as to create great confidence in her ability to defeat the challenger under any conditions. It may be remembered that Shamrock III. was specially designed with a view to excellence in the light and variable winds which prevail on the Atlantic seaboard at this season of the year, but Reliance showed her superiority even in what may be called Shamrock weather. Hence the English papers have already begun to admit that the challenger is not up to the work of lifting the cup. Still it should not be forgotten that Reliance does not do so well under some conditions as under others, and it is not at all unlikely that Shamrock may give her a close and exciting struggle when the weather conditions are such as to bit Reliance on her weak points. There is a promise of good yachting weather for today, with southerly winds, probably shifting to southeasterly, which is just the direction that will try the reaching powers of the boat, and it is just in that particular that the Reliance showed to best advantage in the trial races.

An Expensive Hold-Up.

Ordinances providing for the letting of contracts for the construction of a sand filtration plant, as voted by the people in 1900, were sent to councils April 14, 1902. The deaths from typhoid fever since then up to July 4 numbered 669. The deaths since then as reported to the health department have been as follows: Week ending July 11, 4 deaths; ending July 18, 8 deaths; ending July 25, 8 deaths; ending August 1, 7 deaths; ending August 8, 17 deaths. The total number of deaths since the work was suspended pending action by councils up to August 8 amounts to 653. At the established ratio of typhoid fever mortality this number of deaths implies 6,530 cases since last April. Estimating burial expenses at $60, the average cost of medical attendance at $40 and the average wage loss at $1 50 a day for six weeks, we have the following as the typhoid fever bill for the 16 months the hoid-up has lasted:

Burial expenses, 653@$60	$ 39,180
Medical expenses, 6,530@$40	261,200
Wage loss, 6,530x36@$1 50	352,620
Total	$653,000

This computation is based upon low estimates and leaves out of account the value of human life. Looking at the matter merely as a business proposition the abatement of an epidemic which is costing the community about half a million a year certainly justifies outlay. The experience of other cities which have adopted sand filtration shows that a reduction of over 80 per cent in the deaths from typhoid fever may be counted upon, amounting to a money saving of $400,000 a year, or enough to pay interest upon over $11,000,000 at 3½ per cent.

An essential feature of the filtration plans was the metering of the service. The suspension of work arrested that reform and the consumption of water is now at the enormous rate of 251 gallons daily per capita. This means that the mass of consumers are paying for many times as much water as they use, and that a waste is going on which makes the Pittsburgh water supply cost much more than would be necessary to supply actual requirements. A great deal of money has been wasted in this way by the neglect and incompetency of councils, but there is no data available for making a computation of the amount. Taking the experience of other manufacturing cities as the standard, it is probable that 90 out of every 100 consumers are paying more than twice as much for water than what would be a fair charge.

Director Bigelow has gone about the task of preparing the revised estimates called for by councils in a way that is very satisfactory. The engineering staffs which formerly had charge of the work have been called upon to go over the plans and report as to what is necessary under present circumstances. It will probably be found that owing to the delay that has taken place and also because of the time which it will take to install water meters, a larger filtration plant will be required than was provided by the original plans, and additional funds will have to be provided for the work. The amount, however, will be small in comparison with the saving that will be effected.

Cruiser Pennsylvania.

Today the good ship Pennsylvania will be launched at Philadelphia with suitably elaborate ceremonies. Unfortunately, all of the busy citizens of this state cannot be present, but they will be represented by possibly one for each 200 of population, and that is as many as can get within reasonable distance of the spectacle. The Pennsylvania heads a new class of fighting ships. Heretofore the names of states have been given to line-of-battle ships and the names of cities to cruisers. The Pennsylvania, however, is to be a heavily armored cruiser, with an armament almost equal to that of a battleship. It is expected to be rather more efficient in all around service than either distinctive class.

The recent voyage of the Kearsarge put it nearly in the cruiser class in the matter of speed and sailing radius. The Pennsylvania, the type of a new class, should develop a speed fully five knots an hour greater than that of the Kearsarge and a steaming radius of one-half more. With its first-class armament it will thus be able to cross the Atlantic and perform all the functions of a war vessel for a week or two without coaling. It would probably not be difficult to convince either the prince of Wales or Emperor William, after their inspection of the Kearsarge, that the new Pennsylvania class will prove to be formidable floating forts. There are two other ships of this class in course of construction, but the Pennsylvania has the honor of heading the class and giving name to the type. It is a fitting tribute to this grand old commonwealth which has made all of the armor for the new navy, and a large share of other materials of construction.

The Business Situation.

Mid-August is the season of dullness in retail mercantile circles, shutdowns in manufacturing plants for the purpose of repairs and activity on the farm. These features are just now prominent in the trade situation. For practically two years the demand for the delivery of material was so urgent that the usual summer shutdowns did not occur. Now that they are taking place and the accumulated work of this character is being attended to there is a disposition to exaggerate the significance of the lull. In some lines of manufacture the volume of orders booked ahead is certainly smaller than a year ago, and there is less urgency for delivery. Premiums have disappeared and a shading of prices on some descriptions of iron has taken place. On a declining market that trait in human nature which prompts a buyer to wait for additional concessions becomes prominent. An illustration of this was furnished in the copper market a few months ago, when a decline occurred. The reverse movement was witnessed this week when the metal displayed some strength and a little rush of buying orders advanced the price the equivalent of $10 a ton. Experienced observers of the iron and steel market believe that an immense amount of business is being held back pending a settling of prices to a steady basis. In the textile industry the shutdown of cotton mills is due to the scarcity of raw material and the high cost of the same, the speculators in cotton still holding a tight grip upon the market. In the coal trade the activity continues, and despite the largest production on record the demand is sufficient to absorb it.

During the greater part of the week the weather was unseasonably cool for the rapid growth of corn and some apprehension is felt over the final outcome of the crop. Much will depend upon the latter and it is probable that estimates will have to be reduced, but nothing short of a calamity will reduce the yield to the small total for 1901. The wheat harvest has progressed satisfactorily and the best authorities estimate a yield as large as that of last year.

There is a distinct improvement in the feeling regarding the financial outlook. Forced liquidation in the stock market has ceased and the fluctuations in values are assuming normal proportions. There is reason to believe that banking interests checked the rampant rise that was in progress a week ago for the purpose of averting stringency in the money market this fall. Our currency system is not adapted to meeting the threefold requirements of commercial activity, crop moving and a bull speculation in the stock market. The banks attempted to meet this strain last fall, and everyone is familiar with the disastrous results. The withdrawal of accommodation from Wall street in order to meet the demands of the country's legitimate trade was the beginning of the unprecedented reaction in the stock market which lasted for eight months and threatened serious consequences to general business. Neither the banks nor business interests at large desire a repetition of that experience.

During the week gold to the amount of about $2,000,000 arrived at San Francisco from Australia and was transferred to New York. Our exports of cotton and wheat are still below the average for the season, being checked by high prices. In the case of cotton manipulation is the main factor in holding the price at the highest level for years. The relatively small receipts of wheat at primary markets are responsible for the maintenance of wheat prices. During the latter part of the week, however, there was an increase in the movement of grain from the farm to the market, and if this continues a decline in price is not improbable. Any material decline would be followed by increased purchases by foreign consumers, which in turn would have a favorable effect upon international exchanges and eventually result in gold imports. The advent of the latter would furnish a good basis for a rise in stock market values.

Not a Necessary Adjunct.

In the strenuous conflict between protection and free trade now going on in England, an argument on which much stress is being laid by the free traders is that the protective policy generates political corruption. The London Spectator remarks:

It is indeed not too much to say that political corruption dogs the footsteps of protection. But this is not because Englishmen are more virtuous by nature than their neighbors. It is rather due to the fact that in protectionist countries the possibility of having an industry made or unmade by a few lines in a tariff schedule gives men far too strong an interest in politics.

The case of this country is referred to and mention is made of the way in which campaign funds are raised from business interests. The averments admit of reply, but even if they are well grounded as regards American politics, the argument will not hold. The cleanness and economy of Swiss politics are proverbial, and yet Switzerland maintains the protective policy and applies it in minute detail to the management of tariff legislation. Its case alone is enough to show that there is no necessary connection between protection and political corruption.

The Spectator incidentally points to the true explanation of the prevalence of corruption in some countries rather than in others. It remarks:

If the honesty of English legislators were the result of an innate moral pre-eminence in the English character, it would be as seen in other fields as well as in that of legislation. It would be as marked, for example, in business as it is in parliament. As we all know, this is not the case. Among English merchants as among American or French or German merchants good and bad examples may be found every day.

The difference in legislative tone is one of organization, not of ethics. If the Swiss federal assembly did business in the fashion of our congress the tone of its proceedings would be just about the same. But Swiss procedure affords no opportunity for the hold-up and blackmail of national legislation by particular interests. All legislation is prepared by the administration and submitted to the federal assembly—which approves or rejects. If modifications are found necessary the administration makes them. No appropriations can be made except upon the recommendation of the administration. It has become the practice to publish the leading measures in advance of the session so that they can be considered by the people.

Under this system debates have become direct and sensible business discussions. Within a few years past the Swiss government has revised its entire tariff, which is even more complicated than our own, but the administration prepared the bill and interests concerned by the changes addressed their representations direct to the federal council corresponding to our president's cabinet. The geographical position of Switzerland, without a sea port of her own, and enclosed by the tariff systems of other countries, requires constant watchfulness for the protection of Swiss industries. The administration brings expert study constantly to bear upon the situation and has power to submit legislation to the national assembly and secure its decision at any time. By means of these straightforward, democratic methods of procedure the business of government is carried on honestly, efficiently and inexpensively. President Roosevelt's suggestion of a permanent tariff commission looks toward the adoption of the same system.

Dr. Marmorek of Liverpool has a new Pasteurized cure for consumption, but it is a safe wager that the disease will outlive the "cure" if the patients do not. There is a deal of nonsense perpetrated in the name of science, especially in the toxin and anti-toxin line. Despite the numerous serums one of the Pasteurites proposes to abolish hydrophobia by killing all of teh dogs and the most effective measure against tetanus is prohibition of the sale of the toy pistol. Inoculation is a dubious remedy.

This is the day of the launch of the armored cruiser Pennsylvania. It is an event of interest and if the new vessel is as complete a success as the state for which it is named it will be a whole navy in itself.

Wheat in Kansas.

Barton county is the banner wheat county of Kansas. It has wrested that honor from Sumner. Barton produced 5,004,346 bushels of wheat this year. Sumner raised only 3,434,780 bushels. Rush county even beat Sumner, growing 3,879,040 bushels. Fourteen Kansas counties raised more than 2,000,000 bushels each, and 35 counties produced more than 1,000,000 each.—Kansas City Journal.

THE LOST PINNACLE.

I had a dream the other night, I saw, or seemed to see,
The gallant Tommie Lipton and his Shamrock
Number Three
Recrossing the Atlantic while the cup remained behind;
"What ails the yacht?" I asked myself—"the skipper must be blind!"
For here and there and everywhere the boat dodged aimlessly;
I dreamt I asked Sir Thomas what the trouble seemed to be.
The gallant sportsman flashed on me a look extremely cynical—
"I had to pay my bet," he said; "I've lost my blooming pinnacle!"

On, on upon her aimless way sped Shamrock Number Three,
A second Flying Dutchman, full of sailors full of tea.
She reached the dim horizon, then she turned and scooted back,
She ran six knots about nor'east, then doubled on her track.
Then I awoke—'twas but a dream, and it may not come true,
And yet I fear, Sir Thomas, that it augurs ill for you.
Of course there is a chance for you to win and reach Fame's pinnacle,
But on the other hand you're apt to lose your blooming pinnacle!

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

They fought the war all over again, the boys did, down at Steubenville last Thursday, and won a complete victory.

There were details from a number of regiments, the largest being from the Ninety-eighth and Fifty-second. The former rendezvoused and was mustered into the volunteer service at Camp Mingo, August 20, 1862.

Some of the boys went down to Mingo Junction to look over the old camp, but found it occupied by the Mingo Iron Works. Even the old steward had disappeared, and the little tumble-down station had given place to a regular railroad depot.

So instead of tenting on the old camp ground, as they had thought of doing, they sat around on piles of pig iron and steel billets awhile, contemplating the ruthless changes wrought by the hands of time and money.

Having lost sight of the two score years and more that have elapsed since they camped, and drifted and dreamed of fame and comforts on the spot where once lived Logan, the great Mingo chief and friend of the white man, the boys wondered how such vast change could have been made since they were there.

* * * * *

However, if they couldn't camp there, eat out of the same mess-pan, and drink from the same canteen or—well, out of a— old thing that would hold water, or drinkables of any sort, they could talk about the good times they had, such as roasting ear and apple raids across the river, their sly trips up to Steubenville, and their daring escapes from arrest.

In the midst of one of these recitals, in which the name of a comrade appeared, some one would ask why he was not present, only to be told that he was dead. Or, maybe, the recital would be stopped short in order to allow the living partner to recount the story of his last battle, and the manner of his taking off.

And, as one thing brought up another, these narratives ran rapidly from Mingo down to Kentucky, and from Perryville to Stone River, Chickamauga, Missionary Ridge and Lookout mountain; and from thence to Rockyface, Resaca, Kenesaw, Chattahoochee, Jonesboro and Atlanta; and thence with Sherman to the sea, and back through the Carolinas and Virginia to Washington city; thence, after the grand, triumphal review, to their respective homes.

Although a long tour the narrative describing it need not be long to one who was there, nor tiresome to one who was not there.

* * * * *

Of the thousand and odd men who left Camp Mingo, August 21, 1862, all of whom, with probably a few exceptions, were from Jefferson, Harrison, Tuscarawas, Carroll and Belmont counties, only 62 were present at roll call August 20, 1903.

The absent ones were not all killed, although they might have been, for there were not many of them who didn't smell powder and listen to the bullet song and the drum beat or the cannon.

Only about one-third of those who marched away so light and gay, were permitted to march home again three years later. Some had gone back before, having been wounded or sorely stricken by disease. But many of them had fallen where they fought, winding the unfading chaplet due to every martial soldier.

However, there are enough left to tell the tale, and they insist upon telling it, and telling it straight. Some imagine that old soldiers make the yarns they tell, but they don't—they could, but they don't have to. The truth is more interesting if not more wonderful and thrilling than the product of a most versatile imagination. Consequently there is no necessity for their going beyond the pale of truth and veracity in their efforts to entertain, to amuse, and even to thrill the rising generations.

No, sir, the old soldier don't have to lie, nor to fake war stories.

* * * * *

Say! the soldiering at Camp Mingo was about the most imposing that we experienced during the war. This is clearly set forth in the letters written home by the boys, a specimen of which follows:

COVINGTON, KY., Aug. 24, 1862.—You will see from this heading that we are considerably on our way to Dixie. I am sitting, this beautiful Sunday morning, on somebody's steps in front of the court house, where we are quartered. You can consider this as a soldier's letter, and although they have much to write about I find they have poor accommodations for doing so for want of desks, and above all, quietness.

We arrived here last night at 11 o'clock. Thus one day has brought us clear through the state of Ohio into Kentucky.

Before leaving our camp at Mingo the ladies of Cadiz, O., presented the Ninety-eighth with a beautiful silk flag. The presentation speech by the ladies to which Capt. Norris responded with a few words, brought tears to the eyes of all present. We took the flag, pledging to "keep it unsullied and to bring it back honored."

After our arrival here Col. Webster was not long in finding quarters, and we were located in the court house. I succeeded in getting the clerk's desk for a bed, and was soon asleep. The floor was carpeted with gray blankets and blue soldiers. The next morning we went to the armory, which held our entire regiment, and ample provisions were brought by citizens, consisting of hot coffee, bread, cold ham and cheese. Ladies were running about serving the men in the kindest manner. The lady on whose steps I began writing this letter kindly invited me into the house, and gave me a desk and chair. The citizens are very friendly, and in many ways show their hospitality to the men.

We got notice that we would have to provide our own dinner, as another regiment has arrived and will have to be provided for.

J. M. BRANUM.

* * * * *

You see how much the quiet of home was missed, and the conveniences for writing. However, the boys considered the government excusable under the circumstances, and cheerfully let it go at that.

But they could hardly excuse the roughness of the coarse army cloth of which their trousers were made. It scratched an, and felt so ticklish. That, however, like other discomforts, wore off, and things went on smoothly. Indeed, the trousers were smooth enough, and cool enough before they got others. It seemed as if the government had something else to do than to hand out trousers every time a soldier wanted a change. At least he never got a new pair until he needed them real badly.

Nor did the kind Covington ladies follow the boys down to Lexington and care for them, as did their mothers at home. Nor did the Lexington ladies rush out to meet them with steaming coffee pots, stacks of hot biscuits, rolls of yellow butter, ham and eggs and real cream for their coffee.

These attentions were missed, of course, but excused in a measure, at least, by the fact that most of the young men of Lexington were in the other army, and thither went the hearts of the ladies also.

* * * * *

All this, however, belongs to the last century. Things are different now. The young soldier who wrote gushing letters home—gushing with loyal enthusiasm sometimes, and some other times with tales of woe, learned to ask more clearly the farther he got into warland, and prospective soldier life took on a different hue. The times were not all blue and gold nor were the fruits all laurel and glory. Battle fields proved to be neither stages for the exhibition of knightly valor, nor for delineating scenes of carnage. The realism fell far short of the ideal; or, rather it was vastly different, more rational and more impressive.

At Perryville the Ninety-eighth lost its lieutenant commander, Col. Webster, and the service lost a man who was the making of a general. In fact he was commanding a brigade when he fell, having taken the place of Brig.-Gen. Jackson, who had been killed only an hour before. Within the next hour or two the line had dwindled to one-half its length, but somehow it retained its strength, and was among the very last to let go of the enemy.

But this was only the beginning. Fortunately for the men they could not see what was before them. Strong as were their hearts they could never have gone through it.

That which is wrapt within the history of the intervening years is only known—really known—to those who made the history. It may be read and admired, and even understood by others, but they can never understand and appreciate it in the fullest sense. The written story of the battle may cause the heart to swell and thrill the nerves, but not as did the thundering and roar, and the sights and sounds that greeted the excited, grim, thirsty fighters.

No, you can never feel as they did. The next best thing is to attend their reunions and endeavor to feel good, the same as they feel on such occasions.

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS

(By Private Wire to The Gazette.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Everybody in New York is studying weather conditions. That there will be a race tomorrow between Shamrock III. and Reliance seems to be assured, for there is every probability that a fair wind will be blowing and that the two boats will get over the course in satisfactory time. A great many people went to Coney Island today in the hope of seeing some maneuvering by Shamrock and Reliance. The two vessels cut loose from their anchorage off the Hook this afternoon and it is said that Sir Thomas took heart. He thought the yacht showed a speed which would make her a worthy competitor with the American craft tomorrow and he would not accept the decision of the latter's supporters that he beat would not have a look-in. The betting is not hopeful for Sir Thomas, however. People who are backing the Shamrock ask for odds of four to one and are getting three to one in some instances. This is down in Wall street where the odds are established for the whole city as a rule. A great many of the brokers and bankers know Sir Thomas personally and that helps, but on the other hand, Mr. Iselin is in Wall street room himself. Betting made extravagantly the patriotic aspect of the controversy. It appears as if the thought of a compact gave a half-dollar to Reliance. Still it is the race that will tell the story and the general situation is one of patient expectancy. Since the battle struggle of yesterday it appears as if there is more and more interest in the cup itself—the battered old trophy that is exhibited in a Broadway jeweler's window, so that all may see the actual thing to possess which so many millions of dollars and so much time has been expended. While the cup is merely an emblem, it is a fact that many persons who see it for the first time are disappointed and express themselves to that effect in plain terms. It is not always possible to separate sentiment from dull and ugly actuality.

Peddlers' Horses Poisoned.

Horse owners in the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn are trying to find the person who is poisoning their animals. Poisoning horses is not a new industry in Greater New York. About two weeks ago a number of horses were poisoned on the East side in Manhattan, the victims being of the same class as in Williamsburg—namely, peddlers. Their horses are poisoned by an apple, a piece of sugar, or any other dainty that horses love, with prussic acid or arsenic in it. It is supposed that rival peddlers are guilty, but that is only surmise. The main point is that the poisoning is going on and that the police have not yet caught the rascal doing it.

Pittsburghers Go to the Races.

Among the many Pittsburghers in New York for the yacht races I have seen in Broadway James Brown of Allegheny, James W. Piatt, Alderman McMasters, William Flinn, John M. Morin of Oakland and a number of others. Dr. J. Martin, formerly city clerk, is here, too. He has just returned from Europe, looking hale and hearty and with a real seafaring tan on his cheeks.

John Elsler Dead.

Great was the regret expressed along the Rialto today when word came from Harlem that John Elsler, the veteran theatrical manager, was dead. It will surprise many Pittsburghers to know that Mr. Elsler was 82 years of age. It is only a short time since he was in Pittsburgh, greeting his hundreds of friends and looking affectionately at the Grand opera house, of which he was manager for so many years. He did not look more than about 70 then—as he had for a quarter of a century at least. There never was a manager in Pittsburgh more truly loved and respected than John Elsler. He was in Broadway as late as last week and although he said then that he did not expect ever to appear before the footlights again he seemed to have a long lease of life still. He was sick only two days, his ailment being heart disease.

This Policeman Too Easy.

There is a policeman in New York who has supposed that a tenant in an apartment house has a right to hit a janitor when and where he pleases. It is likely to go hard with that policeman, because he released a prisoner whom he had arrested on a charge of assaulting a janitor. The policeman was reprimanded by Deputy Commissioner Piper today and is may be punished severely for being what the reporter Piper called "dead easy."

Somebody Is Telling Untruths.

There is a lie of lying somewhere in the Parks case. Daniels, Allen and the contractors were rife today in the trial of the redoubtable Rice on a charge of extortion, and Recorder Goff looked very, very tired at times.

Sensation in the Stock Market.

There was a little thrill in the New York stock market today when a break occurred in United States really preferred. Heavy selling orders appeared, and the price went down from 41 to 38. This caused a shaking up all along the line, and gains of one and two points which had been made in the first hour were quickly lost. The whole affair would not be worth mentioning but for the fact that it constituted the first excitement on change for two or three weeks.

Scientists Declare Mosquitoes Cause Malaria.

At the end of the summer comes into sight the scientists who have had mosquitoes on the rack for the last few months declare again solemnly that mosquitoes do cause malaria. In connection with this finding, the professional gentlemen think they can drive the insect away and they will devote their attention to Coney Island for the rest of the summer more assiduously than ever. Meanwhile, Staten Island and New Jersey continue to complain that this has been the worst year of mosquito attack ever known.

Thrifty "Dave" Hill.

It is highly amusing to see David B. Hill again taking up a position as a leader of true, conservative Jeffersonian Democracy. He does it with a supreme impudence and cynicism which have a charm of their own. At Ocean Beach, which is sometimes spoken of as the Hill Chautauqua, the boss of the New York Democracy took occasion to declare, "We should not forget the old doctrine taught us by our fathers that that government is best which governs least. Then he proceeds to criticise Republican legislation regulating labor and safeguarding the rights of laborers as paternal.

Perhaps there were some people at Ocean Beach whose memories were so short that the sort of impudence as safe Doubtless Mr. Hill counted on his hearers being so forgetful or so ignorant that they would not think to make sure the gibe pleases by his own conduct. If they had done so they would immediately have been brought face to face with the Hill chief plank of that year. This "statesman" who now talks about that government is best which governs least has been a year ago startled the country by demanding in the name of the great Democratic party of the Empire state that the United States government invade the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, acquire the anthracite coal mines and permanently operate them. This was the most politically scandalous policy ever advocated by either of the great parties in the United States. * * * And now that same politician has turned another somersault and is daring to talk about the "old doctrine" and complain that the same legislature is interfering with "matters to be regulated by private contract." That is about as cool a proceeding as could be expected of any man, but it is only what anybody may look for from Mr. Hill. The physician cured who has the effrontery to talk political morality will not be abashed by any little thing like self-Boycotting the Bryanites at one minute and proclaiming his devotion to conservatism the next.—New York Tribune.

David B. Hill has always practiced politics on the basis of saying the thing and doing another, of preaching morality and perpetrating corruption. His success as a politician rests directly on a commercial foundation. His abilities are unquestioned, but they get their edge from direct or irregular, "I do not know what the word conscience means as applied to politics," said Mr. Hill, when he was only a ward boss. When, therefore, Mr. Hill breathes himself to the role of the preacher, as at Ocean, it may be admitted that the preaching is sound as far as it goes, but the preacher is under grave suspicion. He has not assailed any one who has been party to any display of such conduct, but in any man in America has committed a grosser sin against the state than Mr. Hill did in 1901, in the noted case of the grand larceny, the author of the crime does not occur to us.

Mr. Hill is worried about the sportsmanlike qualities of other men. He sets his face against it as something not becoming the modern man. This is charming in one whose doctrine is that a man must never let the newspapers insult him, no matter what they say if they only do not ignore him.—Buffalo News.

"The duty of every American citizen who loves his country and his free institutions," says Mr. Hill. "He should assist in the creation of a healthy public sentiment, which should demand that no person charged with crime shall be punished therefore, except by due process of law and by lawful officials, and after a trial before a court and jury, as provided by the wise and beneficent federal Constitution, and these vital provisions, so essential to the public welfare, must be respected in every part of our domain, and wherever our American flag shall permanently float, and every man, whether white or black, native or foreign born, rich or poor, educated or unlettered, must be protected in his life and liberty."

These are things that need to be said at this time, and from no American could they come at this time with more force and effect than from David B. Hill. He deserves full credit for the courage and patriotism that prompted his utterances. But, of course, Mr. Hill could not be expected to forget that he is a Democrat, and that the Democratic party expects him to say something in disparagement of the party responsible every time he opens his mouth in public. Consequently, he had to make a few remarks against President Roosevelt. He did not mention the president's name, but everybody can readily understand against whom his disparagements "Spectacularism" was aimed.

It may be readily admitted that David B. Hill is not a "spectacularist." He ought to be a spectacularist. He does it the open glare of the naked daylight. He does not shun publicity. He courts it. The spider is different. The solemn and brooding wind turtle is different. The mole is different. They are not spectacularists. They court the shadow. Their little webs are spun, their plots are woven, in the dark. There is much in the mentality of David B. Hill that is akin to the mole and the spider. There is much of the nature of the eagle in Theodore Roosevelt. Neither the spider nor the mole can be expected to appreciate the splendid audacity of the eagle.—Brooklyn Times.

Mr. Hill's speech at the Niagara Pioneer picnic at Ocean Beach was eminently characteristic of the man. He took advantage of a purely festive and non-partisan occasion to make a mean and dishonest attack on the president of the United States and to misrepresent for partisan purposes plans of currency reform advocated by the leading financial authorities of the country.—Buffalo Commercial.

GOOD SHOWING OF EXHIBITORS

Many Leading Manufacturers of This State to Have Displays at St. Louis.

NAMES NOT ALL REPORTED YET

Three Months More in Which Applications May Be Made for Space at the Big Exposition—Pittsburgh Firms Are Numerous.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Press Building.
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 21.

The department of manufacturers of the Pennsylvania commission to the Louisiana Purchase exposition today made public the names of manufacturers who have notified the department of their intention of making exhibits at the St. Louis exposition. The list embraces a large majority of the most prominent manufacturers of the state, and is in itself an assurance that Pennsylvania, from a manufacturing standpoint, will be fittingly represented at the fair.

It must be remembered that there are still three months in which applications for space in the manufacturers' department may be filed, the limit expiring December 1, and it is expected that during that period, a great many more applications will be received. It is also possible that there are quite a number of manufacturers who have made direct application to the proper officials at St. Louis, who have as yet failed to advise the Pennsylvania department of their action. In such actions, of course, it is impossible for the names of these manufacturers to be made a part of the report made today.

Gov. Pennypacker, the members of the executive committee, and the committee on manufactures, George T. Oliver, chairman, are much pleased with the showing thus far made, and it is, at their suggestion, that Chester D. Potter, chief of the Pennsylvania department of manufactures, makes the following list. If there are any manufacturers whose names are not herein with included, they should at once advise the Pennsylvania department of manufacturers of the fact.

Fear To Tell Them Of Boy's Death

Lying in St. John's General hospital in Allegheny, with the spark of life threatening to go out forever, at any moment, the physicians fear to tell Mrs. S. G. Corbett and her daughter, both of whom are suffering from typhoid fever, that their son and brother is dead. The son, D. L. Corbett, aged 18, died at the hospital of fever, and the father yesterday took his son's remains to the family's former home in Reynoldsville for interment. Another daughter is recovering from the fever at the family home, at No. 294 Ninth street, Sharpsburg.

SMALLPOX SPREADERS HUNTED AND RUN DOWN

Bureau of Health Officials Got Busy in the East End and Created Sensations.

Three new cases of smallpox were taken from the house at No. 6006 Beitler street, East End, yesterday, making nine cases in the past two weeks, two of which were fatal. Yesterday Inspector W. T. Shannon of the Pittsburgh health bureau, secured six men who had escaped the quarantine placed on the house and who were working at various places in the East End. Shannon not only tightened up the quarantine at No. 6006 Beitler street, and captured the six runaways, but he also quarantined an East End barber shop, because one of the men who escaped refused to go back to the house.

The new cases from this house were Albert and Gladys Shelton, aged 2 years and 17 months, respectively, and Mary Penn, aged 24 years, all negroes. The house is used as a rooming house for negroes. The family running the place is named Shelton. When Shannon went to the house and asked for the addresses where the six men could be found, the Sheltons positively refused to give them up.

Shannon finally told the Sheltons that if they did not disclose the addresses he would keep them under quarantine until they did. The "bluff" worked and the negroes were forthcoming. The first man located was Joseph Johnson, an attendant at Carroll's barber shop, in Center avenue. Shannon tried to persuade the man to return to the quarantined house, but this he flatly refused to do. He told the man if he did not accede to his wishes he would close the shop. At the time there were seven barbers, two attendants and two patrons in the shop. The patrons were told to leave, and the other nine men were kept in the shop, which was placed under quarantine. Shannon continued his search and located Henry Carr, employed at a family hotel in the East End; he was returned to the house at No. 6006 Beitler street, as were Floyd Miner, a porter in a barber shop in Highland avenue; Clarence James of 3 Ivery alley, in Baum school, John Coleman, a butler for a family residing in Beechwood boulevard, and Boyd Seyfert of the East End postoffice.

One death occurred at the municipal hospital yesterday. It was that of Steve Devlin, 36 years old, of No. 817 Edmond street.

The new cases reported yesterday were as follows: Ed Carter, colored, 29 years old, No. 5025 Kirkwood avenue; Cora Spikes, 34 years, No. 2914 Wylie avenue; Thomas Bigley, 34 years, No. 2309 Cargill street; Catherine Bowman, 38 years, No. 2717 Webster avenue; Charles Magilson, 50 years, No. 3208 Dickson street; Mary Penn, colored, 24 years, No. 6006 Beitler street; Gladys Shelton, colored, 17 months, No. 6006 Penn avenue; Albert Shelton, 2 years, No. 6006 Beitler street; Mrs. Barbara Esherish, No. 324 Pearl street.

Another case of smallpox was discovered in Wilkinsburg yesterday. The victim is Walter Vensel, of No. 809 Walnut street, aged about 23 years. This makes the second case in that borough. The other one is John Kerns, a colored janitor of the Duquesne building, Penn avenue. The board of health has quarantined both places.

LITTLE TROUBLE TO ROB MANY CITY FLATS

Policeman in Plain Clothes Showed the Laxity of Many Residents.

Policeman James Noon, who has been working on the robberies which occurred in the Hartford and Sussex flats in Oakland yesterday, thought he would like to see just how difficult it was to rob a flat. Yesterday afternoon he entered the Hartford flats, ascended to the second floor, found a door open and walked in. On a table in the middle of the room there were many valuables, including diamond earrings, rings and a watch. He sat down and it was 15 minutes before his presence was discovered. In that time he could have made his escape. The officer was in plain clothes and was not seen entering. He believes he could have got away undiscovered.

George Herman of Shelby Falls was arrested yesterday charged with being a suspicious person. He was wandering about Oakland yesterday and could give no reason for his queer actions. Several men have been arrested on suspicion in Oakland during the last two days.

ALLEGED HAWKINS MARAUDER.

Ernest French Has Many Charges Made Against Him.

Ernest French, colored, charged with entering and setting fire to the home of W. W. Miller in Braddock avenue, Hawkins, Wednesday night, was arrested while working in Braddock avenue, and lodged in the Swissvale lockup, by Constable Thomas Hughes, yesterday. French is 20 years old, married and lives in Rankin.

The case against French is complicated as his arrest was brought about through the complaint of his sister-in-law, Grace T. Scott, aged 15, the chambermaid at the Miller residence. Last evening charges of entering the building to commit a felony, attempted assault on the Scott girl and surety of the peace were lodged against French. The latter charge was brought by the Scott girl, who alleges her brother-in-law threatened to kill her last May. French was to have been given a hearing last night before Justice Robert Smith, but the hearing was postponed till this morning.

FIGHTING COCKS AND REFORMERS

They Appear to Have Some Connection in Municipal Government.

HAYS HAS TWO ROOSTERS

It Is Charged That These Are Maintained at the Expense of Pittsburgh, but the Executive Has a Defense in His Own Behalf to Make.

Fighting cocks and "reform" apparently have some connection in this community. Mayor James G. Wyman of Allegheny has always had a fondness for the game bird, and yesterday it developed that Mayor William B. Hays has a pair of scrappy roosters. Some over-zealous critic of the Pittsburgh executive has discovered that he keeps his cocks at the Municipal hospital and the city pays the bill. There are threats of a councilmanic investigation.

There is no evidence that the mayor of Pittsburgh has ever invited the mayor of Allegheny to bring his cocks over to the hospital. Not a word has been said about the existence of a "pit." The specific charges against Mr. Hays are that he keeps two game cocks at the expense of the city; that city laborers at a salary of $1.65 a day worked three days to build a coop in which to house the fighters, and that later when the two birds refused to live peaceably together, additional expense was placed on the municipality as a partition had to be erected to restore harmony; that the cocks are possessed of lusty crowing apparatus and have disturbed the peace of indignant taxpayers living in the community.

The mayor will not make public his defense for a few days. There will be a full discussion of the question at the Sunday conference to be held at Mr. Verner's Lakewood cottage tomorrow. The owner of the cottage is credited with knowing a good game cock when he sees it, and can possibly find one in his back yard if the presence of a bird is necessary to assist at reaching a conclusion on the line of defense. While Mr. Bigelow may not possess so much knowledge about the merits of scrappy roosters, he is a lawyer and can cite precedents. Even judges of the supreme court have been known to keep game cocks and witnesses might be found who have been "exercising" the birds on Sunday. It will be doubtless easy for Mayor Hays to build a good defense for being discovered possessed of two fighting cocks.

An inkling of the defense of the mayor on way the city should pay the freight has leaked out. While he does not deny ownership of the cocks, he wants it understood that he also has six hens. Now, these hens are prolific layers. Seven days a week they each produce an egg. Fresh eggs are needed at the hospital and the fruit of Mayor Hays' hennery all goes gratis to the smallpox patients. By expert testimony it will be possible to prove that there is a greater amount of nutriment in the egg laid by the original ancestor of the fighting cock than is found in the fruit of an ordinary chicken. Before the trouble is ended the city may owe the mayor money.

A great deal of garbage is hauled away from the hospital and the authorities are thinking of establishing a pig pen, so that the refuse may be profitably used.

The health bureau payroll shows also that there is now a separate fire company at the hospital, consisting of four men and a captain, Joseph Hook, the latter drawing $100 a month. Formerly two men were kept at the hospital for fire fighting purposes. Fire protection now costs $500 a month instead of $160, as formerly.

The health bureau fund has contributed $300 toward the beautifying of City hall. Four painters were on the "special health bureau pay roll," but they were kept busy painting the private offices of the Select City hall and working in other offices in the building. While all this was going on Controller John B. Larkin has been trying to devise means of procuring funds for the health bureau so that it need not neglect the smallpox quarantine and the disinfection of houses in which the disease has been found. The controller did not know that the painters were not working for the health bureau.

EVERYBODY WANTS TO SEE THE BARNUM SHOW

Many New and Thrilling Features Promised—Opening Spectacle Beyond the Ordinary.

The announcement that Barnum & Bailey's greatest show on earth is to be on the old Exposition show grounds for a three days' engagement beginning Monday afternoon, has aroused much interest in both cities. The success of the Barnum & Bailey circus at Madison Square garden in New York this spring is a matter of very general comment, and the performances here will be fully on a par with those presented in the metropolis. Even the lighting effects, which attracted so much attention there, will be utilized here, as the show carries its own dynamos, and the tents will be electrically lighted throughout. This is an invariable condition for a circus, and will undoubtedly add a great deal to the effectiveness of the exhibition. Here, as in New York, the big spectacle, "The Tribute of Baikis," will be used as an introduction to the performance. This spectacle is described as the most richly costumed and gorgeous display ever seen in a circus tent. In the great spectacle 1,000 men, women and children are utilized, and the poetic charm of the varied and constantly-changing tableaux is said to be most pronounced. The spectacle, however, is simply an introduction to the triple ring performance.

The company of arenic stars numbers 500 performers from all parts of the world. While the exhibition is typically American, and there is much to excite the patriotism of Americans, the performance is made up largely of European acts, and many of these are quite new to this country. Especial attention has been given to high-class aerial displays, and in one of the mid-air numbers, 20 clever people perform at one time. The horse acts are also presented on a big scale, and nearly 100 equines are presented in one startling act. There is much in the way of arenic novelty to interest real circus lovers, but one of the most pronounced "thrillers" is the seemingly impossible feat of Cycle, the Kinetic Demon, who rides a bicycle on the inside of a perfectly perpendicular wall. This act is sensational in the extreme.

The free street parade, which is especially brilliant and elaborate this year, takes place next Monday morning. Performances will be given twice daily during the three days' engagement.

CABMAN FINDS FORTUNE IN OLD STRADIVARIUS

STRASBURG, Aug. 21.—(Special Cable.)—A poor cabman here has suddenly found himself the owner of what to him seems a fortune. He had just been ejected from his house and his furniture sold at auction. Among the goods was an old violin, covered with dust and dirt and entirely devoid of strings. At the auction this disreputable looking instrument was sold for 50,000 marks, which was turned over to the fortunate cabman. The violin was a genuine Stradivarius and was today resold by the buyer for almost double what he paid for it.

LANGLEY'S BIG AIRSHIP PREPARED FOR A TRIAL

It Is Expected That a Test of the Mysterious Machine Will Be Made Sometime Today. Mechanism Adjusted Yesterday.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WIDEWATER, VA., Aug. 21.—Langley's big aerodrome was placed in position on the superstructure of the house boat late this afternoon. The air ship force worked on the body, arranging machinery and adjusting the wings, until sundown. The machine was then returned to the interior. Her machinery and dimensions were plainly visible.

Aerodrome is a great mass of wheels, rods, plates and various other mechanical devices. It is exceedingly complicated. The body consists of several long steel bars centrally located. With bowsprit and rudder it will measure 60 feet. Close to the motor is the navigator's car. This is built for a weight of 150 pounds. The gasolene motor, which weighs 200 pounds, generates something in excess of 27 horse power. It is connected by bars with the propellers, about six feet in diameter, capable of revolving 1,500 times a minute. The motive power is sufficient to produce a velocity of 40 miles an hour.

Placed equally about the ship are five empty conical bodies designed as floats to keep the airship up when she strikes the water. Fore and aft are two strong platforms on each side to support the wings. These have a sustaining capacity of 800 square feet. During the work repeated photographs of the machine were made. The wings were placed in compartments on the superstructure and repeatedly adjusted. With good weather conditions, a test is expected Saturday.

FAIR SLEEPER RUDELY WAKENED

Beach Crowded at Atlantic City Witnesses an Entertaining Spectacle.

LAUGHED AT THE VICTIM

Young Lady Goes Asleep on the Beach. Tide Comes in and Big Breaker Overwhelms Her, to Her Confusion and Amusement of Onlookers.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Young's Ocean Pier.
ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 21.

Fully 5,000 persons wasted an hour waiting in high glee for the culmination of a distressing plight in which a pretty young summer girl found herself because she succumbed to the irresistible demands of Morpheus in the wrong place. About 3 o'clock in the afternoon she lay down in the sand to take a sun bath and nap. She had a big silk bonnet and a Japanese parasol, which she planted in the sand. Unfortunately she chose a spot below high water mark, although this did not develop for more than an hour. The tide was low and for that time the girl slept on unmolested. Then the waves began to creep in nearer and nearer. A party of young men were the first to realize the possibilities of the situation. They camped on the beach within the safety line. Then some elderly ladies discovered the danger and wanted to warn the girl. But the young men drove the ladies back and established a sort of censorship. Soon the boardwalk began to fill. If any of the beach guards or policemen heard of the situation they took care not to officially know about it.

Nearer and nearer crept the water and the breakers actually seemed to laugh in glee. It was all over in a minute. One unusually large breaker dashed in and engulfed the fair sleeper. She was rolled along the beach and when the wave receded, struggled to her feet, dripping wet and with wonder writ on her face. It was bad enough, but when the crowd laughed and cheered she understood. First she cried, then she scolded, and then, finding this indignation was only fuel for the mirth, made a run for a bath house. The proprietor took her in and sent for a rolling chair in which she made her return to the hotel.

Pittsburgh Team Is Beaten.

The final game of the basketball series between the Atlantic City five and the D. C. and A. C. team of Pittsburgh was won by the home team by the score of 50 to 36. The playing all the way through was fast. On Saturday the annuel series for the local championship will take place, when the Atlantic City will meet the Steel Pier five. Following was the lineup last night:

Atlantic City.	Position.	Pittsburgh
Forat	Forward	Patterson
Fogarty	Forward	Hoag
Dawson	Center	Stallner
Thomas	Guard	Cooper
Kinkaid	Guard	Martin and Leach

Goals from field—Atlantic City 22, Pittsburgh 12. Goals from fouls—Atlantic City 6; Pittsburgh 10. Referee—George Beale.

Mishap to Pittsburgher.

D. C. Holly, aged 28 years, of Pittsburgh, narrowly escaped breaking his neck while turning somersaults on the beach today. He had been amusing the crowd for some time, and finally he slipped and instead of turning over struck on his head with sufficient force to make him unconscious.

CARNEGIE'S GIFT CAUSES TROUBLE FOR OFFICIALS

Ohio Municipal Code Interferes With Building a Library at Columbus.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 21.—The conditions which Andrew Carnegie attached to his recent gift of $200,000 for a library in this city are making trouble for the city authorities, and it is possible that a technicality will stand in the way of the construction of the building, the site for which was purchased by the city months ago.

Mr. Carnegie gave his donation upon condition that it be deposited in a bank in Newark, N. J., and that none of it pass through the hands of city officers. His plan was to have it paid out in installments by his agent to the contractor as the work proceeded. Now, the municipal code provides that no department of the city government shall enter into any contract unless the money to pay for the proposed work is in the city treasury and certified by the city auditors. Mr. Carnegie has refused to authorize the transfer of his gift from Newark to Columbus to be placed in the city treasury.

The city authorities have decided to word their advertisements for bids in such a way as to direct prospective bidders to look to Mr. Carnegie, not to the city treasury, for payment, hoping that the contracts will not be invalidated by the technicality.

COAL TIPPLE COLLAPSED, CAUSING MUCH DAMAGE

LATROBE, PA., Aug. 21.—(Special.)—With a terrific crash that was heard for miles, the big coal tipple of the Baggaley works collapsed last evening, wrecking the steam lines from the boiler houses which furnish power to the big plant, and covering the dinkey engine and several cars with tons of coal and the debris. Almost 300 wagons of coal were loaded into the bins yesterday, and the weight proved too much for the huge supports. The company's loss is $25,000, and the entire plant will be shut down for several months, throwing 500 men out of employment.

AUTO TRIP COMPLETED FROM OCEAN TO OCEAN

Waters of Atlantic Wash Wheels That Bore Riders from the Pacific.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—(Special.)—E. M. Fitch of Warren, O., and M. C. Kramp of New York reached this city shortly before noon today, having completed a journey of over 5,000 miles from ocean to ocean in 73 days in an automobile.

Escorted by a great motor caravan of clubmen who had gone out to meet them, the trans-continental tourists entered town in a triumphal procession. The travel-worn appearance of their vehicle and the unmistakable earmarks of a long journey about themselves added to the squadron of automobiles that accompanied them told the onlookers on the sidewalk that something had been doing even without the legend "San Francisco to New York" that their car bore. Cheers from men and handkerchiefs waving by women greeted them.

The tourists and their escort came down Jerome avenue and through Central park and proceeded direct to Brooklyn. The tourists were headed for the ocean, that they might mingle in happy fancy the salt of the Atlantic on their tires with that of the Pacific.

This ceremony, which marked the end of the long journey, was performed amid cheers and then the tourists, the escorting party and their jubilant host, Colo. K. C. Pardee, repaired to Villepigues, at Sheepshead Bay, for a banquet and general merry-making.

OHIO NATIONAL GUARD'S CAMP COST $105,000

Work of Engineers' Battalion Highly Praised by Regular Army Officers.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEWARK, O., Aug. 21.—The Ohio National guard was mustered for pay immediately after guard mount today. The cost of the division encampment will approximate $105,000, of which the federal government will pay about $15,000 and the state the balance. The detailed expenditure is as follows: Pay of enlisted men at $1 per day, $42,000; pay of officers, $18,000; transportation, $16,000; subsistence, $18,000; medical stores, $7,000; incidentals, $4,000. The government furnishes all the medical stores for the camp.

Gov. Nash continues to ride horseback and said today that he was feeling much better than when he came to camp. In appearance it would seem the chief executive was greatly improved.

The battalion of engineers from Cleveland, which is the only organization of its kind in the National guard, constructed 275 yards of lying trenches, then converted 100 yards into kneeling trenches, and another 100 yards into standing trenches. This work called forth high praise from the regular army officers in camp.

Gov. Nash and Gen. Dick reviewed the entire division this afternoon. Col. E. J. Dennisch of Washington is a guest of headquarters, and tonight addressed a meeting in Newark, which was held to take steps for the organization of a citizens' rifle club. The arms can be secured from the adjutant general by the club giving a bond for their return.

RECEIVER WILL FIGHT FORECLOSURE PROCEEDINGS

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—(Special.)—The attorney for the receiver of the United States Shipbuilding Company, Mr. Marshall, said today that Receiver Oliver Smith would make a stiff fight against the proceedings to foreclose the first and second mortgages, brought on behalf of the bondholders connected with the Sheldon reorganization committee. Mr. Marshall said: "The receiver asked the reorganization committee to assist in some scheme to keep the Crescent shipyards going for the benefit of all concerned. That does not mean that he will acquiesce in the foreclosure matter."

GOV. ODELL IS GUEST AT SAGAMORE HILL

OYSTER BAY, L. I., Aug. 21.—(Special.)—Gov. Odell took luncheon with the president and spent the afternoon with him. PAINFUL PERIODS are overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Menard cured after doctors failed to help her.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me after doctors had failed, and I want other girls to know about it. During menstruation I suffered most intense pain low in the abdomen and in my limbs. At other times I had a heavy, depressed feeling which made my work seem twice as hard, and I grew pale and thin. The medicine the doctor gave me did not do me one bit of good, and I was thoroughly discouraged. The doctor wanted me to stop work, but, of course, I could not do that. I finally began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and felt better after taking the first bottle, and after taking six bottles I was entirely cured, and am now in perfect health, and I am so grateful for it."—Miss GEORGIE MENARD, 537 E. 152nd St., New York City.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

ABSENCE OF BURGESS KEEPS MEN IN LOCKUP

No One in Connellsville Authorized to Give Prisoners a Hearing.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Aug. 21.—Connellsville is without a burgess. Prisoners placed in the borough lockup remain there without being given a chance to have their guilt or innocence proven. Others who were given a hearing and committed to the jail by a councilman are consulting lawyers about seeking redress in the courts.

Burgess C. W. Patterson is in Johnstown. When he left town the first of the week he left the powers of his office in the hands of President of Council George Porter. Porter left town for the east Wednesday morning, leaving Councilman J. C. Lytle to take his place in police court. Lytle sentenced prisoners Wednesday and yesterday morning, but last evening after the publication here of the law on the subject, he failed to appear.

The state law provides for non-exercising the powers of the burgess during the absence of the latter, except by the president of council.

FORT PITT BRIDGE WORKS SUES TRACTION COMPANY

FRANKLIN, PA., Aug. 21.—(Special.)—The Citizens Traction Company of Franklin and Oil City was sued here today by the Fort Pitt Bridge works of Pittsburgh to recover $62,327 61, which is claimed to be due on the contracts for building the Big Rock bridge over the Allegheny river, near Franklin, and the Reno bridge, near Oil City. The plaintiff asks $25,000 damages for delay caused the company by failure of the traction company to secure the necessary rights-of-way.

TOO MUCH

Exercise is as bad as too little for the growing girl. It is very easy for her to overdo, and this is especially dangerous at that critical period of a young girl's life when she crosses the line of womanhood. It is not an uncommon thing to lay the foundation for years of after misery by neglect of necessary precautions at the first "change of life."

The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription not only establishes regularity, but it gives health to the entire womanly organism. It is the best medicine for diseases peculiar to women because it cures the causes of disease completely and permanently.

"Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine nor any other narcotic. It cannot disagree with the most delicate constitution.

"For a number of months I suffered with female trouble," writes Miss Agnes McGowne, of 1212 Bank Street, Washington, D. C. "I tried various remedies, but none seemed to do me any permanent good. The doctor said it was the worst case of internal trouble they ever had. I decided to write to you for help. I received a very encouraging reply and commenced treatment at once. I took seven bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' a week before I began to feel better, and, as I continued, my health gradually improved, and is improving every day."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

DON'T GET IN A SWEAT

Perspiration—"sweat" is what the Bible and we common people call it—is a way nature has of driving out of the body refuse that has no business there. We sweat more in summer, because, in the overheated bowels, undigested food ferments more quickly than in winter and produces irritating acids and gases. The bowels, overworked, try to relieve themselves by violent convulsions, causing terrible gripes and colics, and diarrhoeal discharges so acid as to make you sore, and leaving the intestines weak and worn out. Nature assists body-cleaning by sending the filth out through the pores of the skin. It is not safe to stop perspiring altogether but most of the impure matter should be sent out by natural movements of the bowels, and the offensive, ill-smelling, linen-staining sweat done away with. Keep your bowels strong all summer with the pleasant, candy cathartic CASCARETS, that clean the system and don't allow the excrement to be sweated out through the pores. Take a tablet every night, before going to bed. They work while you sleep and make you feel fine and cool all day.

Cascarets

Best for the Bowels. All druggists, 10c, 25c, 50c. Never sold in bulk. The genuine tablet stamped CCC. Guaranteed to cure or your money back. Sample and booklet free. Address Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago or New York. 50

KAUFMANN'S

"THE BIG STORE"

Men's new fall hats

ARE now on exhibition. Accept this "card" as a personal invitation to call and express your opinion concerning the latest candidates for favor.

Our two main lines this fall, as for some years past, will be priced 1.50 and 2.00. Want to be among the first to sport the new headwear? Then call at once, come in today. We guarantee the 1.50 hats the equal of any shown elsewhere for $2.00, and the 2.00 hats as good as the best $3 hats elsewhere.

Our entire stock of men's clothing

Now occupying the counters and tables on the second floor must find new owners before the sun goes down many more times. The retailers' season (but not yours) is in its final stages—a few days more and the Fall campaign will be on. Carried-over goods would be a poor claim for patronage. Yes, we know some dealers mix the old in with the new and thus "work off" the goods left from the previous season. BUT WE DON'T. We always close out each season's goods in the season for which they were made. Of course, to do this, we must be willing to accept a loss, and a most severe one, too. AND WE ARE, as this offer of our entire stock of men's suits, pants and overcoats (full dress suits, uniforms and coachmen's liveries only excepted)

now offered for half off the marked prices fully proves. This complete closing-out policy is advantageous to our customers in two ways; first, it enables them to secure new suits, overcoats or pants that otherwise they might feel it extravagance to buy; second, it assures them an entire new and fresh stock at the beginning of each season. But, don't think that because we're accepting a loss on our present stock that the garments are not suitable for Fall wear. THEY ARE. It's only a question of buying now at half price or waiting a couple of weeks and paying full price. To be true, the new Fall goods will be newer style, but does this equalize the difference in cost? Judging by the way the clothing piles are dwindling down, thousands of men evidently don't think so. Remember, our entire stock now goes for just half the regular marked prices

Reductions on boys' clothing

Today is the final opportunity to select any short pants suit, regulation reefer or top coat in our entire stock and no matter what it is now marked you need pay only 5.00. Remember there are considerable numbers of silk lined blue cloth reefers, fine three-piece and silk color suits and other styles too numerous to mention. Former prices of these suits ranged up to $10, $12.50 and $15, unrestricted choice today 5.00

Another offer which will be discontinued today is your choice from our entire stock of boys' all wool blue serge, flannel, fancy cheviot and homespun single or double-breasted suits, also sailor and Russian blouse suits—former prices of which started at $4 and ranged upwards to $6 and $7. Remember that after today this offer goes into history—so you had best be quick to grasp this opportunity. Unrestricted choice 2.75

Round-up of shoes

WE can't afford to keep broken lots of shoes—we view the matter as you do. A complete line of sizes insuring an absolutely perfect fit for every foot is one of the first essentials of a successful shoe store. So, we've hewed down the price to rid our stock of all broken lots.

All men's oxfords

in our entire stock marked to sell for $3 or $3.50, reduced for today to only 2.25. Be sure to read this offer aright: Our entire stock—all styles, all leathers, patent colt, velour calf and vici kid—all made with hand sewed welts—cut down from $3.00 and $3.50 to only 2.25

Men's sample shoes and oxfords—the ends of this season's $2.50 lines, in kid, box calf and patent leather, Goodyear welt sewed—not each size of every style, but all sizes in the assortment—all reduced to 1.50

Men's furnishings less than ½

Men's negligee shirts for less than half the former prices. About 500 dozen in all, hence we have to use vigorous means to clear our stock—so the great profit of men who share. These shirts are made of imported chevilette, madras, percale, etc., plain or pleated bosoms, some sizes are shy in some of the patterns, but you'll find your size in the entire lot. Actual reductions from 50c, $1.25 and $1.50, to only 50c

Men's underwear for less than half the former prices. Object to making 100 or more per cent on your money? You're no odd fellow if you do. Here's a chance to make that profit—fancy Sea Island cotton undershirts and drawers, also balbriggan shirts and fancy cellular knit undershirts—all offered today for only 25c

Bookkeeper clearing—we've made the price as low as possible within reason, and that means that they're all without profit to us. Regular 50c silk gauntlet four-in-hands, silk and linen novelty four-in-hands and choice bat-wing ties, today, 25c

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—The champions and Giants reversed the order of things today, the former winning the first contest, in which they shutout the locals 3 to 0, only two men reaching the half-way station, owing to Leever's brilliant work on the slab and the teaminess of his playmates.

In the second game Mathewson repeated, by adding another victory over the Pirates to his season's record, having beaten the champions in every game he has faced them.

The features of the first game was a left-handed catch by Leach in the eighth inning of Dunn's liner, fully three feet above his head. McGinnity retired the Pirates in the second inning of the first game on three pitched balls. Both Leach and Wagner played championship ball in both contests.

Not until the fourth inning of the first game did a Pirate get past first. After Bresnahan had made a good catch of Clarke's hit to left, Leach hit safely past Babb. Wagner followed with a hit up the alley in left field for two bases, scoring on Leach's hit to third on the throw in. Mertes robbed Bransfield of a hit by making a good catch of his low drive, Wagner scoring on the catch.

In the sixth inning Beaumont singled and moved to second on Clarke's sacrifice. Leach's smoking drive was too speedy for McGinnity and Beaumont dashed home with the third run. Mertes muffed Wagner's fly and on Bransfield's smash Babb made a fumble, filling the cushions, but Iron Man McGinnity fanned Ritchey, and Sebring forced Bransfield at second.

In the opening inning of the second game both Beau and Clarke hit safely, the former scoring on Leach's long fly. Lauder's fumble of Clarke's rap, Wagner's single and Babb's bad throw of Bransfield's grounder scored two more in the sixth. Wagner and Bransfield singled and Ritchey's out scored another in the eighth. Clarke singled, stole second and scored on Wagner's single in the ninth.

Mertes and Babb started in the second, Lauder followed with a gift, filling the bases. Wagner missed Dunn's pop fly, but the batter was called out. Warner's drive was too hot for Leach and Mertes scored. Mathewson sent Babb and Lauder in with a single.

Lauder strolled again in the third inning. Dunn's clip took an awkward bound, hitting Ritchey in the eye, Lauder reaching third. Dunn stole second and Lauder scored on Warner's plank which caught Wagner on the base. Two gifts and singles by Warner and Mathewson allowed the Giants to chalk two more runs in the sixth.

One more was made in the seventh. Fatkenberg replaced Wall on the slab in the eighth. Two singles, a gift and an out netted them two more runs in this inning. The scores:

TEN THOUSAND DOLLAR OFFER MADE JACK MUNROE

Champion Jim Jeffries Will Give It for Four Round Bout.

Agrees to Knock Out Butte Miner or Forfeit the Big Sum.

Defi Is Surprise to Followers of the Fighting Game of the Country.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—(Special.)—"I will give Jack Munroe $10,000 if he can stand four rounds before me.

"JAMES J. JEFFRIES."

This is the heavyweight champion's answer to the Butte miner's request for a fight. The above telegram was received here today, and its contents conveyed to Munroe.

Jeffries' answer to Munroe came as a big surprise to the local followers of the pugilistic game. Immediately after his fight with Corbett last Friday night, the boilermaker stated that he was willing to meet any heavyweight in the world, and that Munroe could have a fight at any time.

Munroe immediately wired Jeffries asking him to set a date for the battle. He received no reply until today, when Jeffries' wire came today offering to step him in four rounds.

The decision which Munroe received over Jeffries last winter in Butte, when the champion failed to stop the miner in four rounds, has been a very sore point with Jeffries. He has always claimed that Munroe caught him out of condition, and that the miner would be easy picking for him in a regular battle.

DETROIT, Aug. 21.—The Athletics and Detroits broke even in their last games of the season here. Both were remarkable contests. Waddell pitched a shutout the first time against Donovan and was so elated he asked to go in the second and came near getting away with it. A base on balls and two hits scored the only run in the opener. Each team had earned one in the next when a passed ball gave McGuire a life. He was so lame Buelow took his place and scored on Yeager's double. In the last half a shoulement stop and throw by Long nailed Seybold at the plate. Attendance 3,631. Scores:

BROWN EXPOSES THEIR PLANS

North Side Controller Outlines Future Action of Wyman's Pledge-Breakers.

WILL KILL TWO MORE BILLS

The Pledge-Breakers Intend to Put to Death in Committee the Other Ordinances Relating to the Office of Delinquent Tax Collector.

"Now that they have killed the ordinance meant to abolish the office of delinquent tax collector, I suppose the Wyman majority in the finance committee will put the finishing touches to the Citizens party folly by killing in committee both ordinances introduced in the meeting of the common branch of councils last month, to put the office on a 2½ per cent basis. It looks to me from the actions of the Wyman members of the finance committee that this is their purpose and I suppose no one will be surprised since seeing what ideas of reform are held by those members of councils elected on the Citizens ticket last February."

Controller James Brown of Allegheny, made this statement yesterday to a reporter for The Gazette and foundation is given to this belief by further statements made by the controller.

"When those ordinances were introduced last month, by two of those who voted to kill the ordinance introduced by Lee C. Beatty of the Sixth ward, it looked to me as though both were but baits thrown out to some members of the common branch who were undecided as to whether or not the delinquent tax office should be abolished.

"Some thought it ought to be put on a salary, or that the fees should be cut in half. The purposes of these ordinances I think, was to catch a few doubtful ones and lure them into the belief that it would be best to put the office on a 2½ per cent basis and give the city the other 1½ per cent.

"Since that time two meetings of the finance committee have been called and each time the Citizens' members have prevented a quorum by remaining away. Last week when we had almost enough members in my office to conduct business two of the committees men who voted for Davidson on Thursday night were sitting out on the steps of city hall and refused to come into my office. Their attendance would have resulted in a quorum and we could have taken action on these ordinances. Their evident purpose was nothing more or less than to delay action on these measures, until it was definitely decided what was to be the fate of Beatty's ordinance.

"Now that they have disposed of that bill, there will be no trouble in getting a quorum at a meeting of the finance committee and I am afraid both the measures I have referred to will be killed in committee, and that the delinquent tax collector will retain his fat job and his big fees. To city will get nothing more from the office than it has for the past 15 years.

"It was a clever scheme of the Davidson workers in common council and it has been carried out successfully so far. But if both ordinances are killed in committee, I don't think anyone will be fooled."

This opinion, so plainly stated by Controller Brown, is held by hundreds of tax payers in Allegheny, who watched with anxiety the journey of Lee Beatty's ordinance through committees and select council to the common branch where it met defeat.

One ordinance referred to by Controller Brown provides that the city get 2½ per cent of the collections, and the delinquent tax collector the other. The other simply provides that the collector get his 2½ per cent, while no mention is made of the other half of the collections. No one seems to take these measures seriously, as they were apparently never meant for passage.

MARROQUIN LEFT CANAL TO SENATE

President of Colombia Made Non-Committal Speech Before the Vote.

HE DODGED RESPONSIBILITY

Feared Reproach of People That Sovereignty of the Country Had Not Been Safeguarded by Its Rulers—Still, the Money Would Be Welcome.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

CARACAS, VENEZUELA, Aug. 21.—The following dispatch has been received from Bogota, overland, via Cucuta:

Before presenting the Panama canal treaty to the Colombian senate, President Marroquin said:

My government is confronted with this dilemma: Either our sovereignty must suffer detriment or we must renounce certain pecuniary advantages to which in the opinion of many we have a right. As we must vigorously maintain our sovereignty and claim in a peremptory manner the pecuniary indemnity to which we consider ourselves entitled.

In the first case, by consenting to the diminishing of our authority and not aspiring to an important indemnity, if the canal should be opened through the Panama isthmus the just desire of the inhabitants of that department and of all Colombians and also the government would be satisfied, but the government would be exposing itself to having the charge brought against it later that it did not duly defend our sovereignty and that it sacrificed the interest of the nation.

In the second case, should the canal not be opened through Panama, the government will be reproached for not having allowed Colombia to obtain that advantage which is considered an essential condition of our aggrandizement.

I have already expressed my desire that the inter-oceanic canal be opened through our territory. I think that even at the cost of some sacrifices we ought not to place obstacles in the way of so grand an enterprise, both because it will be a gigantic material improvement to our country and because the canal is opened by the North Americans we shall strengthen and widen our relations with them, which will result in an immediate gain to our industry, commerce and wealth. Happily for me, the immense responsibility which must weigh upon him who decides this question must be assumed by congress, whose duty it is to definitely approve or disapprove of the Agreement proposed by the North American government.

A patriotic demonstration occurred in Bogota after the disapproval of the treaty by the senate.

HOTEL GUESTS ROBBED OF MONEY AND JEWELRY

Thief Enters Rooms in the Monongahela House and Made a Rich Haul.

Several rooms in the Monongahela house were entered yesterday afternoon and jewelry and money were stolen amounting in value to several hundred dollars. Among the victims were several of the delegates to the Irish Catholic Benevolent union, who held their annual convention at the hotel this week.

The robberies were discovered shortly before 5 o'clock. Mrs. Thomas J. Foley of Gloucester, N. J., wife of the treasurer of the Catholic union, found her room door open, although she had locked it before leaving. An investigation showed that the room had been entered by a thief. A pair of diamond earrings and a gold watch, belonging to Mrs. Foley, which were in a bureau drawer, had been stolen.

Other guests made hurried examinations of their rooms and at least a half dozen other robberies came to light. Mrs. Daniel Duffy of Pottstown, Pa., discovered the thief had entered her room and stolen her pocketbook, containing a considerable sum of money. Another guest reported the loss of a silk shawl. Others lost money and jewelry.

Norman Richardson, proprietor of the hotel, reported the robberies to the police, but investigation has so far failed to throw light on the thief.

SOCIETY

SIXTY years ago the wedding of Miss Sarah J. Negley and Thomas Mellon was a notable society event. Today the celebration of their 60th wedding anniversary will be an event around which much interest will center. Judge and Mrs. Mellon will give a 5 o'clock family dinner at their home in North Negley avenue, at which all the members of the family, with the exception of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Mellon and Miss Mary C. Mellon, who are abroad, will be present. Covers will be placed for 22. The decorations will be very simple, the magnificent old homestead, nestling among myriads of blossoms and surrounded by wide, sloping lawns, needs no added adornment to compose the perfect beauty of its appointments. Pink and white will be the color scheme in the dining room. The chandelier decorations will be particularly effective, consisting of a heavy fringe of many lights, through which the lights reflect softly.

At the table this evening will be Judge and Mrs. Mellon, the host and hostess; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Mellon, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Mellon, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Mellon, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Mellon, E. P. Mellon, Thomas Mellon, Jr., Miss Lucille Mellon, Mrs. Alexander King, Mrs. Samuel McKee, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Corey of North Braddock, Dr. and Mrs. G. M. Shillito, Mrs. Reed Mrs. Wilcox of Philadelphia and Miss Sallie Negley.

Entertainments in Oakmont.

The summer gaiety has not lessened one whit in Oakmont society circles during the week just ending. At a fancy work party Mrs. C. F. Tiers yesterday entertained about 50 friends at her lovely home. The affair was marked by dainty appointments, although it was very informally conducted. The hours were from 2 o'clock until 5. Mrs. Tiers received her guests on the porch. A color motif was the basis of Mrs. S. Robb of Aspinwall and Mrs. Max Brown receiving prizes for the prettiest hats. Quite a number of out-of-town guests were present, among them Mrs. A. H. Hamilton of Mt. Clair street, who is the fallowed of Miss Jeannette Howard; Miss Lou Long of Negley avenue, Miss Dixon and Mrs. Dixon, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Hugh Newell of the East End; Mrs. F. About 200 young people from Oakmont and Verona were in the large pavilion at the grove being filled with a merry throng of dancers. A number of smart gowns were worn by the girls and the affair proved to be one of the prettiest of the kind ever held. The committee in charge of the dance consisted of Alfred M. Lee, chairman, J. BOY THREATENED TO KILL HIMSELF

Told Judge Brown He Would Commit Suicide Before Going to Morganza.

HAD NO EFFECT ON COURT

Four Youths Who Stole Beer Were Lectured and Turned Over to Their Parents—Ferguson's Attempt to Eject Chemical Company.

"I'll commit suicide before I will go to Morganza," exclaimed John Mitchell, 15 years old, when he was taken before Judge Marshall Brown, in the juvenile court, yesterday. His threat had no effect upon the court and the sentence was that he be confined in the Morganza school.

Young Mitchell was active in the robbery of a residence at Wilkinsburg and has been in jail several times. The boy's mother was in court and she blamed her son's wrong doings upon association with bad companions.

Fannie Scott, a mulatto, 14 years old, was turned over to Miss Alice Montgomery, the probation officer.

Joseph Gilbert, Elmer Yeager, Chester McMullen and Hugh Blanchard were severely lectured for stealing beer from a car and drinking it. Judge Brown told the boys not to drink at all, but he added that if they should decide to drink in after years, they should be moderate in its use.

Walter and William Sherman, aged 8 and 12 years, respectively, were sent to their homes upon their parents saying for a number of nuts and balls the boys stole from a school house in Allegheny.

An action in ejectment was brought by E. M. and W. Ferguson against the Pittsburgh Chemical and Specialty Company, to oust the latter concern from the possession of a store room and a basement in the Ferguson building.

John Kearns entered suit against the Pittsburgh Steel Construction Company for $10,000 damages for personal injuries, received while employed by the defendant.

Oliver McCracken entered suit against the Diary Coal & Supply Company for $15,000 damages. He was employed by the defendant company as a teamster and says that while taking his wagon down a hill in Sterrett township, last winter, the horses he was driving were not well shod and slipped on the ice. The wagon upset, he states, and his leg was broken in several places.

GRAHAM SAID GOD HAD SENT HIM FOR THE MONEY

Son of Prominent Deceased Alleghenian Fought Policeman in a Bank.

A man who showed evidence of insanity yesterday compelled the Second National bank of Allegheny, to keep open its doors six hours longer than usual, and caused much excitement along Federal street, Allegheny. The man is J. Reynolds Graham, aged 35 years, son of the late James Graham of Allegheny, who for years owned and operated the old salt works in Market street. When the father died some years ago he left the bulk of his estate to his son, J. Reynolds Graham. The latter's part of the estate was put in the hands of the Second National bank as executor, and Graham was allowed $15 per week.

Shortly before 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon Graham entered the bank, corner of Federal and Diamond streets, wrote a check for $200 and presented it to the teller. He was told that he could not get the money.

"Yes I can. God sent me here and told me to write that check," said the man. "He has been sending me large sums of money to get money and I must have it."

Nothing could persuade Graham that he could not draw the $200, and he refused to leave the building. About 4 o'clock President John N. Davidson, of the bank, called in Officer Joseph Gausman, one of the biggest policemen on the Allegheny force. Graham is six inches over six feet, and he immediately went for Gausman. The battle that followed was fierce. Gausman could not overpower Graham, nor could the latter get the better of the officer. A message was sent to Central station and the patrol wagon arrived at the bank. With the assistance of the wagonmen Gausman put Graham in the lock up.

DESERTER ARRESTED.

Fred Rummell Charged With Taking $10 and a Suit of Clothes.

Fred Rummell, a deserter from the United States navy, was arrested yesterday morning by Detective Lewis Leff charged with taking $10 and a suit of clothes from Peter Rice, an employe of the Empire Machine Construction Co., whose offices are in the Empire building. Rummell was also an employe of the firm, and it is alleged he took the money and the clothes.

Rice had a warrant swore out for Rummell before Alderman James R. Connors, and the defendant was arrested. Rummell informed Leff he deserted from the navy at League Island navy yard, Philadelphia, about 15 months ago, where he was serving as a marine. As soon as the authorities here are through with Rummell he will be turned over to the government.

BE WITTE IS CROSS.

The Russian Minister of Finance Gives Surly Reception to the American Commission.

BERLIN, Aug. 21.—(Special Cable.)—The members of the American monetary commission have just returned to this city from St. Petersburg, where they seem to have met with very poor luck. They were received with extreme coldness by the Russian secretary of finance, M. de Witte, who is said to have asked them some very embarrassing questions and said:

"America has been so successful and so anxious, are all the powers of Europe for her friendship that they have conceded many demands that were really unreasonable, but this time the United States asks too much when they expect that we shall allow China to pay her indemnity in silver without any guarantee whatever that the difference between the amount in gold and silver will ever be paid. What do the United States know about China? Evidently nothing, or they would never propose anything as absurd as this.

"Let the citizens of America regulate their own monetary standard before they try to regulate that of other countries."

The members of the committee after this short audience hurriedly left the domains of the czar and arrived here via Eydkuhnen.

STOCKS VERY NERVOUS AND CLOSED LOWER

Realty Construction and U. S. Steel Were Features. No News to Account for the Weakness. Local Securities Declined.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The eastern stock market yesterday was extremely nervous and at times decidedly weak. There was no news to account for the sharp decline that occurred in a few specialties, and there was not much evidence of support, which left the impression that liquidation by the banks was again in progress. Several times when the selling pressure was removed there were rather sharp rallies, but these brought fresh selling, and while the final quotations were not the lowest of the day, they showed declines in almost every instance. The total sales were about 500,000 shares.

At the opening the market was fairly firm, in response to higher quotations from London, where a better feeling prevailed in consequence of the concession of Turkey to the demands of Russia. This feeling was reflected in slightly higher quotations for consols, and by moderate buying orders for foreign account. As a rule, however, the highest prices of the day occurred during the early part of the session. The incident which seemed to be most influential in depressing the market was the heavy selling of United States Realty and Construction by a western house that was interested in the flotation last year. Selling by the same interests was responsible for the break in the stock earlier in the month. Yesterday new low records were established by the common stock declining to 6⅜ and the preferred to 38, the latter representing a drop of 6 per cent from the opening. Both stocks were unusually active, and the house referred to is credited with having sold between 15,000 and 20,000 shares. The movement was followed later in the day by heavy selling of United States Steel stocks. The common broke to 21½ and the preferred to 69½. So far as known there was no connection between the causes underlying the weakness in Realty and Construction and that in United States Steel, but the course of the former has several times had a sympathetic effect upon the latter, possibly because of the personnel of its management.

Another weak feature was Amalgamated Copper. The stock opened higher at 48, and advanced to 49¼, but late in the afternoon broke to 48⅛. The early strength was based upon the advance in the metal in the London market, and the further rise of ⅛ per cent in the domestic markets, while the late weakness had no better grounds than sympathy with the general declining tendency. Colorado Fuel and Iron opened higher at 48, declined to 35 and then dropped to 49, closing 3½ at 45 bid. Tennessee Coal and Iron was fairly active, at one time advancing to 44, but closing at 41⅝. Sugar declined 1½ to 115 per cent. The minor iron and steel stocks were dull and followed the course of the leaders.

In the railroad list the declines ranged from 1 to 3 per cent from the highest prices of the morning, but the market was very feverish. The Bears did not press their advantage too hard, the mystery surrounding the market suggesting manipulation, and upon the least sign of support prices rallied sharply, only to drop again to lower levels. St. Paul was one of the weakest stocks, selling off to 140¼, a decline of 3 per cent. Missouri Pacific decline 2½ per cent from 95 to 92¾. Atchison declined from 62¾ to 60¾ and Union Pacific from 79½ to 74⅛. Accompanying a decline of 2⅜ in Pennsylvania, from 125¾ to 123⅜, was a report that the forthcoming report for July would show a decrease of $400,000 in net earnings for the month. Rock Island broke from 29¾ to 26⅞. The coal stocks held relatively better than the others and Erie was noticeably strong in the early dealings, advancing to 30⅝. A calculation of Reading's figures showed 3.2 per cent earned on the common stock, but the latter sold off from 56⅛ to 54⅝. It later recovered to 55½ and closed at 55. Baltimore & Ohio declined 2 per cent to 81⅝ and New York Central from 123⅝ to 122, in the final dealings the fluctuations were very erratic, the close being ½ to 1 per cent above the lowest of the day in some instances.

The banks have gained a little more than a million through the sub-treasury operations this week, and the estimates from currency movements placed the net gain from all sources at $2,500,000. From these figures the street was inclined to look for a favorable bank statement today. Call money rates were unchanged at 1¾ to 2 per cent, but there was very general talk of the scarcity of the offerings of time money, and loans on mixed collateral were quoted at 6 per cent. The export clearances of wheat yesterday were a little more than 1,000,000 bushels, as compared with none for the day before. The primary movement of wheat, however, continues light. Yesterday's receipts at the chief western markets were only 470,378 bushels, against 1,010,000 bushels for the corresponding day last year. The shipments were only 284,627 bushels, against 1,024,709 a year ago. The marketing of wheat is far below the averages of 1902 and 1901, while the yield, according to the latest estimates is fully as large as last year. If the movement should become free, it would make larger drafts upon the money market, but at the same time the effect would be to depress the market price, and any material decline would no doubt be followed by liberal exports. The latter would tend to attract gold from abroad, and supply the drain of currency from the east, but New York bankers are evidently not disposed to take any unusual chances of not being called upon to help move the crops or of receiving gold from abroad, and hence they are holding the time money rate firm.

Pittsburgh Coal common again furnished one-third of the total business on the local stock board yesterday. The stock opened firm and advance to 50¾, closing at the top, a net advance of ⅝. The preferred declined to 88 and was offered at that price at the close. There was nothing doing in River Coal stocks, which remained unchanged, but the bonds sold at 113¼, an advance of ¼ per cent. United States Steel was fairly active, but both the common and preferred weakened in sympathy with the decline in the east, and closed 1 per cent lower for the day. Crucible Steel common sold at 10½, and a small lot of the preferred at 72½. National Fire Proofing declined ½ to 32, and the common was quoted at 22 bid, 23 asked. Manufacturers' Light and Heat was unchanged at 54½@54¾, and Ohio Gas and Supply at 40. Philadelphia Company sold at 40. Westinghouse Electric was very dull and declined from 83¾ to 82¾, closing offered at the decline. A small lot of the first preferred sold at 88.

Home Trust declined 4 per cent to 126, probably on the report that the company contemplated an issue of new stock at 125. Federal National Bank declined to 147 and recovered to 149. Merchants' Savings and Trust was unchanged at 83. The remainder of the list closed dull and barely steady.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The decline in United States Steel stocks, following the break in Realty and Construction to the lowest prices ever recorded, had a depressing effect all around yesterday. Like as many of the weak days of the early spring and summer, there was no news to account for the selling. It was not believed that the selling was short stock, for the reason that the sharpness of the rally last week rendered the profits almost as ruinous as the bulls had been previously. Conjecture took the place of definite news, and the general opinion seemed to be that the selling represented liquidation of bank loans on Realty stocks, and inasmuch as the business of this company is related to one branch of the steel trade, there was a sympathetic movement in United States Steel. This, with the decline in St. Paul and Amalgamated Copper, the two leading Standard Oil stocks, was sufficient to establish lines of the entire market. It is possible that the action of the United States circuit court at Wilmington Del., in restraining several railroads from interfering with the Postal Telegraph-Western Union until the United States supreme court passes upon the question at issue, had something to do with sentiment in reminding the public of the controversy between the Gould-Gould interests.

R. J. Stoney, Jr., was one of the largest buyers of Pittsburgh Coal common yesterday, and Masters, one of the principal sellers. The offerings of the stock were light at the advance. The preferred stock declined a fraction to 88 and was offered at that price at the close. The street was full of rumors relating to the causes underlying the recent activity in the common stock.

The gross earnings of the Panhandle railroad for July increased $140,226, and the net increased $92,700.

The securities committee of the Pittsburgh stock exchange has made a ruling that when stocks are delivered the certificates must correspond to the several amounts purchased, unless otherwise agreed upon by buyer and seller. The question was raised last week when the buyer of two 50-share lots of the same security received one 100-share certificate and refused to receive it.

The rejection of the Panama canal treaty by the Colombian congress changes the financial situation to some extent. It leaves Secretary Shaw with $50,000,000 surplus on hand which he has put aside to pay out for the canal when the treaty is ratified. This money is unlocsened and can be used by Secretary Shaw in any one of the several directions he may see fit. It is his general policy not to keep money tied up in the treasury and the greater part of it out in national banks. The banks now hold $144,870,000 government money. State and municipal bonds to the amount of $18,000,000 are held against this money, the balance in United States bonds.

At the reopening of the transfer books for United States Steel preferred stock, there was a rush of applicants to transfer stock bought during the decline and since the books closed. It is estimated that not less than 2,000 new accounts due to investment buying on the decline, will be registered within the next 10 days so that the total number of preferred shareholders at the next dividend period will exceed 28,000. The books for the common stock dividend will close October 8. There have been many additions to the total number of holders in both common and preferred, the additional feature of the increase in the number of shareholders is that a majority are for 200 shares and under, showing the bulk of the buying was for investment purposes.

The total number of shareholders of the Union Pacific to date is 14,100. At the dividend period in April was 12,992. This is an increase of 1,108 within three months or an average of 370 per month.

The number of stockholders of New York Central at the payment of the last quarterly dividend was 9,000 odd. Since then the increase of investment stockholders has been marked and it is entirely within reason that when the stock list is made up for September 30 other quarterly disbursements are due less than 12,000 accounts will be on the books.

A comparison of prices of 20 active railroad stocks indicates that the decline in average prices from the high level of 1902 to the low level of the early part of the present month retained something over 45 points. The only substantial intervening rally was in the latter part of last month. The first explanation this, under the influence of what Wall street has come to name "the faith cure," consisting in informal intimations from an influential party of backing by the combined bank reserves were feeling that they stood prepared to supply $50,000,000 of credits to the stock market if necessary to avert trouble. That measure proposed no such extraordinary aid, but did not avert it, and it is evident that the course the market has run since had its inception previous to that. The rally in the average price of twenty active stocks by the succeeding decline on Tuesday is estimated at 11 points. The reaction to Thursday's low point was to the neighborhood of 5 points, and yesterday's opening was followed by a rally to overcome that. The approach toward the point of more stable equilibrium is clearly perceptible.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

A prominent Quincy mining official says that the physical condition of the mine looks better than for three years. The north ground is exceedingly productive and will ultimately become an important factor.

Sinking in the ledge is well under way in the new shaft at the Allouez. The shaft has reached the point where sinking is going to the angle of 80 degrees. The Keweenaw argillaceous lode should be encountered within a year.

The recent strike made by M. Benham, manager for the Funston Gold Mining Company, operating in East Argentine district, Colorado, is now attracting much attention. They own a group of 20 claims. Starting it was concluded to put in an ovaries, as the ground through which they were drifting looked good. Only a few feet was raised when about 18 inches of ore was encountered, which runs 12 ounces in gold and 78½ ounces in silver per ton. It is only another illustration of how close one may come to ore and yet miss it because of a lack of judgment in mining operations.

A compressor plant and a 200-ton concentrator are to be put in on the Richland Chief mining property in the Pine creek district of the county of Alameda, California.

Salt Lake Tribune—For a little over 61 tons of ore with which the Montana-Tonopah of Nevada reached the furnaces of the American Smelting & Refining Company at Murray during the day the local cashier for the company drew down a check for $13,013.75, this after the cost of transportation, working charges at the sampling mill and smelter was paid. A little expensive themselves had been deducted. The consignment was divided into two lots that containing 44½ tons showing 426 ounces silver, with 10.20 ounces gold to the other, 16½ tons showing 448 ounces silver, with 2.25 ounces gold. In the drawn recently encountered in a north drift in the Montana Tonopah and at a point 180 feet north of the shaft, is now exposed, according to a report from Manager Knox, four feet of rock, which affords an average of $100 per ton, while other portions of the bottom, which appears to be the ore, the greater portion of the ledge (or Tonopah's quarters at this time, are reported to support satisfying conditions. Indeed, local interests are looking forward to a shipment the present year, and Manager Knox is doing everything in his power that expectations shall be realized.

TOWS BEING HITCHED UP.

Early Preparations for a Rise Being Made by Local Rivermen.

The steamer Sam Brown will be hitched today to a tow at Davis island dam and the Iron Queen will be attached to a tow tomorrow. The Joe Walton was hooked up Wednesday. Other towboats will be hitched to tows as they are made up at the landings. Each of the steamers will have 17 barges and be kept in readiness for a rise. Rivermen are not looking forward to a rise in the near future, although such things have happened under similar conditions, and they do not intend to be caught napping. There was a slight rise in the harbor yesterday afternoon. Pool boats are kept busy bringing down loaded craft from the mines. All the empties are out of the harbor and at the mines.

THE MONEY MARKET.

The local money market is firm and unchanged at 6 per cent on call and time loans. Clearing house comparisons:

	Exchanges.	Balances.
Yesterday	$7,895,102 92	$1,547,966 78

Business on the stock exchange was reduced to a minimum and there was little disposition to expand, in view of tomorrow's holiday and the nearness of the settlement. The tendency, however, was firm. Consols hardened and home stills sympathized with them. Americans at first reflected the irregularity in Wall street, but afterward became more lively and firmer on local buying, and closed easier. Kaffirs improved. Rio Tintos were strong owing to copper advancing on good buying orders.

BERLIN, Aug. 21.—Business on the bourse today was generally firm and trading had a better tone.

PARIS, Aug. 21.—Trading on the bourse today was moderately active. The tone improved on oriental advices, which steadied internationals. At the close prices were firm throughout.

Connellsville Production Curtailed, But Reports Say Stock Is Accumulating.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade tomorrow will say:

Business is well maintained, aside from the quieting influence of the vacation season, which somewhat restricts trade and retards collections. Making due allowance for the period, there is no cause for complaint. The adverse factors that have been operating against prosperity in recent preceding weeks are no longer as potent, normal influences gradually prevailing. Labor controversies still exist, curtailing the output of a few products and the consumption of all the necessaries of life.

Crops are not going to market as freely as usual, although the agricultural outlook is distinctly favorable. In spite of several obvious reasons for expecting a check to freight traffic, earnings of railways thus far reported in August show an average of 0.6 per cent over last year and 19.2 per cent over 1901. Complaints are beginning to be heard regarding the inadequate facilities of the railways, and it now appears that inconvenience and losses must still be experienced, notwithstanding the extensive improvements.

Sensational stories of the large number of buyers now at this center and the fabulous sums that will be spent cannot be accepted as statistically accurate, but it is certain that an increase over all previous years is actually occurring, despite the demoralization in cotton goods, caused by speculation in the raw materials.

Although production of coke at Connellsville has been moderately curtailed, supplies accumulate and prices are depressed. A fairly liberal tonnage of iron has been placed during the past week, providing abundant demand for all the pig that is being made. More large contracts for iron and steel have been placed by a prominent manufacturer of agricultural machinery, and as much of this business has been held back entirely on account of prices, it is believed that no further concessions are to be expected.

Somewhat easier prices for the great food staples testify to brighter crop prospects. Failures this week numbered 288 in the United States, against 261 last year, and 8 in Canada, compared with 20 a year ago.

M'KEES ROCKS REALTY ACTIVE

S. Kalman Purchases Site for Bank Building—Will Erect Business Block.

AVALON NEEDS MORE HOUSES

Homeseekers Cannot Be Accommodated—Locust Street House Sold—Wylie Avenue Property Brings $7,650—Brokers Expect Early Revival of Business.

A sale has been made in the McKees Rocks district by the Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust Co., which will be followed by the erection of a handsome building for banking purposes. The sale was made for Mrs. R. H. Munson to Szeghy Kalman, and consisted of a lot measuring 26x100 feet, and known as No. 512 Helena place, corner of Ella and Helen avenues. The new owner will at once begin the erection of a banking building to cost about $25,000. In this building he will conduct a general banking business. Besides the bank the structure will contain a restaurant room, a basement fitted up for use as a cigar store and, on the second floor, a handsomely appointed dance hall. The price paid for the lot was $900.

The Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust Co. also sold for Mrs. R. H. Munson of Bay Mills, Mich., to S. Gross, lots Nos. 373, 374 and 375, at the corner of George and Helen avenues, Helena place, McKees Rocks, for $3,050. This property will be improved with a fine three-story brick business block, the construction to commence immediately.

Avalon House Sold.

W. L. Alexander of the Bellevue Realty Savings and Trust Company, sold for A. Marshall to J. S. Paden an eight-room brick house, lot 70x112 feet, in Erdner avenue, Avalon, for $3,700.

There is considerable disappointment expressed that Avalon has not been given more attention by builders and investors in properties for rent during the present summer, as it was hoped the shortage of houses there last spring would influence contractors to put money in new buildings for the accommodation of the vast army of house-hunters who flock to this popular suburb every year. Hundreds who want homes in that neighborhood, as well as in Bon Avon and Bellevue, cannot be taken care of. There are a number of new houses always in course of erection, but they are for sale not rent, and only those who can arrange their affairs to buy can be accommodated. There was much talk of a number of new blocks of dwellings in the three boroughs which were to be built for rent, but so far they have not materialized, and it looks as though the same dearth next spring as heretofore.

A. T. Stein has sold to Julia Lapidus an improved lot, 24x120 feet, on the north side of Locust street, near Muhlenberger street, in the Sixth ward, $10,600.

George Zitman sold to A. H. Oyer an improved lot, 40x140 feet, in Boggs avenue, Thirty-second ward, for $2,600.

John Zellinger sold to Lavinia Celia an improved lot, 40x100 feet, on the north side of Rosedale street, near Tacoma street, Thirty-seventh ward, for $3,700.

Wylie Avenue Sale.

Jacob Tannenbaum sold to Jacob Price and Joseph Sadunsky an improved lot, 45x70 feet, on the north side of Wylie avenue, near Vine street, Eleventh ward, for $7,650.

W. C. Coffin sold to John Liggett an improved lot, 60x145 feet, in Baum street, near Graham street, Twentieth ward, for $8,000.

H. M. Hill sold to Andrew Horvath a lot 40x100 feet, in Bates street, Twenty-third ward, for $1,200.

Everything points to an early revival of business in real estate this fall, and brokers say already their lines show the effect of which they believe to be coming. There is reason in their preparations, for they have had so many inquiries for property that they know they will have a large class of clients customers. So far the trend of inquiries is in the direction of downtown properties, the offer of $1,000,000 made for the "Tradesmens Bank building" and one the other day of $500,000 for another older building indicating that there will be something doing this fall from this time the gone sounds for business to get under way.

Oil Developments in Lower Southwest Are Very Light

Developments in the lower southwest fields were very light yesterday. In the Bristol field, Greene county, Pa., the South Penn Oil Company's No. 3 on the Mc. C. Grimm farm flowed at the rate of 20 barrels an hour. It drilled into the sand, but subsided rapidly and rounded out the first 24 hours with but 275 barrels to its credit.

In the Adams district in Wetzel county, W. Va., the South Penn has drilled its No. 3 on the M. M. McIntire farm into the stray for 55 feet, and struck the pay. The well produced 320 barrels the first 18 hours and is the most promising producer drilled in this territory for some weeks.

The Salem district in Harrison county has also revered itself by presenting a better producer than for some months. The South Penn has drilled its test on the Clark Smith farm 10 feet into the Gordon and the well produced 60 barrels the first 19 hours.

In the north fork of Hughes river, in Ritchie county, the South Penn Company has drilled its No. 16 on the G. M. Ireland farm into the Big Injun and the well produced 40 barrels the first 12 hours. This is flashy territory also and the well will settle down to about a 25 or 30-barrel pumper.

In the "Little Germany" district, Marshall county, the South Penn shook up its No. 4 on the Gertrude Stein farm with 80 quarters of nitro-glycerine fluid and the well produced 20 barrels the ensuing 12 hours.

In the Pine Grove extension the South Penn has drilled in its No. 2 on the J. M. Delaney farm and has a 20 or 40-barrel producer in the stray.

In the Burning Springs district, Wirt county, the Bridgewater Gas Company has completed No. 15 on the S. Swisher farm and has a 5-barrel pumper in the Big Injun sand. In the same district W. C. Patterson & Co. have shot their No. 2 on the Johnson-Prentice farm and the well is making small flow every 20 minutes.

On Yellow creek, Calhoun county, the Lowther Oil Company has completed a second test on the Thomas K. Ferrell farm and has a 10-barrel pumper in the Berea grit. The same company has completed No. 3 on the James Metz farm and has a 60-barrel producer in the same formation.

Northeast of the Whisky run pool in Ritchie county the Southern Oil Company has drilled its second test on the E. M. Butcher farm into the Keener and has a show for a 10-barrel pumper in that formation.

In the Ohioser district, Penn sonp of the late Mellon, has completed a second test on the B. Higgins farm and has a 15-barrel pumper in the Gordon.

In the shallow sand district on Wolf creek, A. A. Cameron has drilled his No. 8 on the J. J. Lawrence farm into the sand and the well produced 100 barrels the first 12 hours. This farm is now controlled by the heirs of the late wells have made in this development.

In the same locality, J. A. Henne has drilled in his No. 26 on the John Lightner farm and has a show for a good producer.

North of Knoxville, near Shipire, Jefferson county, E. H. Jennings & Bros. are starting a second test on the Smith farm and have made the location for No. 3. In the same locality Mildren & Sons are starting a test on the church lot. In the Knoxville pool G. J. Waldron is drilling a test on the John B. Vantilburg farm.

Herrs Island Stockyards Go Under New Management at Month's End

Effective August 31, the Herrs Island stock yards will be leased to Samuel W. Allerton of Chicago, and that property will be operated by the Pittsburgh Provision Company, of which Mr. Allerton is a director. On the same date the Pittsburgh Central Stock Yards Company will pass out of existence, and the newly organized corporation, the Pittsburgh Union Stock Yards Company, will enjoy the privileges of its charter.

The Union Company was recently formed by the allied interests, the Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio and Pennsylvania Lines West railroads, which own Herrs Island, and Robert Pitcairn, resident assistant to the president of the Pennsylvania railroad, was made president. The old stock yards company, which controlled the yards at East Liberty, was a dependent company of the Pennsylvania railroad alone. It leased the East Liberty yards to the Pittsburgh Provision Company, and on August 31 this lease will also become void.

The Pittsburgh Provision Company now occupies the lower half of Herrs Island, while the middle section of the property is occupied by the stock yards. The Provision Company already holds a lease for the land it now occupies, and the new lease will be a separate one.

Robert Pitcairn at present is acting as the head of the Herrs Island stock yards and will continue in that capacity until the Union Stock Yards Company comes into existence. He said yesterday that orders for transferring the offices, crews, forces, etc., from East Liberty to Herrs Island would take place August 27, and that after that date no more freight will be received at the former place. On September 1 shipments will be made to and from Herrs Island. On September 7 the formal opening of the new yards will take place.

Wabash Working Turks.

The Wabash is making preparations for the establishment of a large camp near McCurdysville, Monongalia county, W. Va., and it is said that the line will run to Fairmont. Near McCurdysvilleea long tunnel is to be built and over 600 men will be put to work within a short time. One of the contractors has employed 200 Turks and 200 Italians, who will be put to work on the tunnel. It will be somewhat of a novelty to work Turks in heavy construction, although the contractor believes he has struck a happy medium between the negro and the Italian.

Panhandle Earnings.

The increase in estimated earnings, expenses and net earnings of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway Company for July and the seven months ending with July 31, 1903, as compared with the corresponding periods of 1902, is as follows:

July—
Gross earnings	$ 340,226
Operating expenses	267,526
Net earnings	$ 92,700
January 1 to July 31—
Gross earnings	$1,381,607
Operating expenses	1,329,079
Net earnings	$ 52,618

B. & O. Contracts for Rails.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 21.—The Baltimore & Ohio signed contracts today for 50,000 tons of 85-pound steel rails for 1904 delivery. The Carnegie Company will furnish 28,000 tons, Cambria 12,000 and Maryland Steel Company 10,000 tons.

Railroad Notes.

President Joseph Ramsey of the Wabash is expected in the city Monday.

J. D. Hamilton, chief timekeeper of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, is on a vacation in the east.

W. R. Lehew, assistant trainmaster of the Pittsburgh division of the Panhandle, has gone to Atlantic City for a few days.

H. M. Huester, secretary to the superintendent of the Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania railroad, is spending his vacation at New Castle.

The total coal tonnage of the New York Central from the Beech Creek district for the fiscal year ending June 30 was 7,708,736, against 5,257,562, an increase of 2,361,174.

The Baltimore & Ohio will run a special theatrical train to Columbus from this city Saturday night. Later the train will run regularly every Saturday night, as it did last season.

W. J. Goodfellow, who for several years has been division freight agent of the Erie at Bradford, Pa., has resigned to become secretary-treasurer of the American Charcoal Company.

The Baltimore & Ohio will handle Barnum & Bailey's circus from Butler to Allegheny tonight. Four trains will be required. Next week it will make four movements for the Wallace show.

It is reported that between 50 and 100 additional men were suspended from the Allegheny shops of the Pennsylvania railroad on Thursday and about 10 freight crews at that point have received their notices. The suspensions, it is said, are being made to allow the departments to catch up with their over-drawn accounts.

PLANS OF C. F. I.

Estimated That $14,000,000 Will Be Required to Perfect the Plant.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—The Wall Street Journal today prints the following:

"A prominent official of the steel corporation says: 'Before the steel corporation takes over the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company, it will be necessary for the Rockefeller-Gould combination to rehabilitate the plants, complete the outlined improvements and put the whole concern upon a money-making basis.

"'I am not saying that the steel corporation would buy it even then, but I am positive it will not be purchased until these preliminary conditions have been complied with.'

This authority may underestimate the influence of John D. Rockefeller in the United States Steel Corporation. His was able to persuade the corporation to take off his hands the Troy Steel Products Company when its usefulness as a subsidiary was not patent to all, and to pay a good price for it.

The postponement of the financial plan until the forthcoming meeting of the board in New York will give time for the new management to determine how much more money it will spend on improvements.

Including the $3,000,000 advanced to meet current expenses by Messrs. Rockefeller and Gould, at the time they assumed control, it is estimated that not less than $14,000,000 will be needed to put the plants in shape to meet the demands of the steel corporation. The time required will be at least a year.

It is Mr. Rockefeller's intention, it is said, to use all the money necessary to modernize the plants and then to transfer it to the steel corporation.

FLOUR MARKET IS SOMEWHAT EASIER

Oats Suffer Slight Decline—Ear Corn Firm and Higher. Watermelons Lower.

As noted yesterday, there is an easier feeling ruling the flour situation, and millers are not so stiff in their holdings as they were a week ago. A decline of 10 cents a barrel was made by northwestern mills day before yesterday, and, while local jobbers were never up to the advance made by manufacturers, and were left by this reduction on a basis not at all too high, first hands, sensitive as they are to trade here, and there is a tendency toward unsteadiness in quotations, which is causing prices to rule less firm. Millers have had to pay as much as $1 per cash wheat, and some of the mills have shut down, but the fact remains there has been enough flour, owing to the lightness of export demand, and the fact that buyers in this country curtailed their wants to the actual necessity point after the higher position was taken by flour. Based on the result of special inquiry of mills throughout Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota, also special report as to acreage, the Northwestern Miller estimates the total crop of spring wheat in the three states at 160,762,000 bushels. Based on the Jones figure the acreage, the crop would be 156,000,000 bushels.

In other grocery lines there is no change whatever. Coffee and sugar hold their own, and there has been no further change in beans. There is still some uncertainty as to the outcome of the corn and tomato crops, so that the exact condition of canned goods is hard to determine, being largely a matter of opinion. With the burden of evidence so far favoring short packs of corn at least.

Demand for oats in this market has fallen off, and although receipts have not been heavy, there is a disposition to be satisfied which has resulted in the adoption of a lower range of quotations. Corn, on the other hand, is wanted, and prices for ear have moved forward from 3 cents a bushel. Hay is firm as quoted, without change in figures. Demand being good. Mill feed is steady to firm, with receipts light.

There was little in the way of feature in the produce market yesterday, prices ruling about as they were on Thursday. Lima beans went off under the influence of heavier receipts, and Kalamazoo celery was slightly easier. Tomatoes are but little changed, whether decline since the reduction of two days ago. Peaches are coming in more freely, but are steady as quoted. Cantaloupes are selling; fine grown, while watermelons are plentiful and lower.

There is no change in butter, although the market is easy, while cheese is steady and eggs are firm. Poultry continues as last quoted.

Hay, Grain and Feed.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania lines, 14 cars hay, 5 cars oats, 3 cars corn, 2 cars feed, 1 car wheat; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 2 cars hay, 4 cars oats; Pittsburgh & Western railroad, 1 car hay, 1 car oats. Total receipts, 37 cars.

TURKS MUST MOVE FROM MACEDONIA

Chautauqua Lecturer Says That Is Only Solution of Troublesome Question.

PETER CANNOT RULE SERVIA

Not Strong Enough—Murderers of Alexander and Draga Should Be Punished. Bulgaria Making Last Struggle Against Domination of the Turks.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., Aug. 21.—This has been Children's day and the little folks have had everything their own way. They had a monopoly on the band for their processions and concert and the regular lectures were relegated to the hall of philosophy, while the children took possession of the amphitheater.

Miss Kate Kimball and John Spencer, better known as Uncle John, of Cornell university, made short addresses, then there were gymnastic exercises, field games on the athletic grounds, a concert by the junior choir and the visiting children, story-telling hour and an illustrated talk on butterflies.

Dr. Edward Steiner gave a most interesting talk today on Servia and the Balkan question. Dr. Steiner has recently been all over the ground under discussion and knows perhaps as much about the subject as any one. He thinks that the fall of Alexander and Queen Draga, brutal though it was, was inevitable. Alexander had all the instincts of a tyrant and fell into the wiles of a destroying woman. Peter is king, but how long he will wear the crown no one can tell. He is too refined and too much influenced by the republican Switzerland and France to be the king Servia needs. A swine herder from the mountains or a rough son of the soil would have suited Servia better. A man strong enough to call the murderers to account would have been strong enough to rule these people who are struggling for upward freedom through a welter of blood and death.

"The Balkan problem," he said, "is no new one. The last struggle of the Bulgarians is being made against the domination of the Turks. Macedonia belongs by right to Bulgaria, and has no business being ruled by Turkey. These people have suffered terrible and all the stories of the sufferings are true. Wherever the Turk has ruled he has left wreck and ruin. I do not excuse the Macedonians for their actions, but they have been goaded into it. A solution of the problem is this: The Turk must be given notice to move. If the nations of Europe and Asia would tell him that he must pack up his grip and go he would do it, for he could not fight Russia and England. Russia will not fight for Turkish territory or Constantinople, for she knows that in the course of time they are destined to fall into her hands. There is no need of war. The peace conference at The Hague should be the only battlefield, where the Anglo-Saxon and Slav should meet.

"Whatever name the new government which will control the Danube and the Bosphorus, the highways to Africa and Asia, will no doubt be Slavic and opposed to the kind of Christianity which has been the dream of the best men."

The doctor said in closing: "I care not whose flag floats over the country, but I do care what cross it overshadows and I know the Greek cross is the most to be feared and the least to be desired."

TENT SERVICES PROVE TO BE VERY POPULAR

Crowds Turn Out to Hear the Discourses—Doings in Religious Circles.

The tent services being held throughout the city by the different denominations are proving popular and the results are gratifying to those carrying on the work. The usual services will be held in the Presbyterian tents in the city tomorrow and each evening during the week. The Rev. Dr. Prentice of Grant university, Athens, Tenn., will make the address at the tent meeting on the Shoenberger grounds, Forty-seventh and Butler streets, tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. The Lawrenceville Young Men's Christian association has charge of the meetings.

Evangelist C. S. Longacre conducts services in a large tent in Wallace avenue, near Swissvale street, each night during the week. The subject of his discourse tomorrow evening will be, "Hell! Where and What Is It? Are the Flames Already Kindled and How Long Will the Lord Keep the Wicked in Them?"

The corner stone of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Millvale will be laid this evening at 6:30 o'clock. The edifice will cost about $21,000 and will be at the corner of Lincoln avenue and Butler street. Dr. G. W. Terbush, presiding elder of the Allegheny district, will deliver the chief address. Several other ministers will speak. The Rev. George L. C. Richardson is pastor of the congregation.

The Rev. Dr. W. A. Stanton, pastor of the Shady Avenue Baptist church, returns today from his vacation, which has been spent in the vicinity of Rochester, N. Y. He will occupy his own pulpit tomorrow for the first time in several weeks. There will be no evening services in the Shady avenue church until September.

The Rev. J. W. Righter, formerly pastor of the Mt. Washington Methodist Protestant church, has been tendered a call by the Methodist Protestant church at Toronto, O. The Rev. H. P. Hummell, formerly pastor of the Toronto church, has accepted a call to become pastor of the Birmingham church, South Side.

The congregation of the Calvary Presbyterian church, recently organized, yesterday purchased a lot at Swissvale avenue and Hill street on which to erect a house of worship. A small chapel will be erected as soon as the Pittsburgh presbytery issues the congregation a charter. The church is an offspring of the First Presbyterian church, Wilkinsburg. The Rev. T. Dean Miller is the pastor. The congregation has 100 members.

Old and Helpless He Died in a Cellar

Beckett of the sense of hearing, seeing and smelling, with all the afflictions of old age, and set down to wear away his life in a strange home, "Dandy" has died. "Dandy" was an Irish terrier belonging to William McConnel of Sheraden. About three weeks ago Mr. McConnell moved to Sheraden from New Kensington. The pet came along with the family, but, in his helpless condition, it was impossible for him to become acquainted with the new neighborhood. He wandered away, and when finally found was dying in a cellar. He would have been 22 years old in October had he lived, and it is believed that this would have made him the oldest dog in Pennsylvania.

MOVING WITH CAUTION IN OSBALDESTEN CASE

Postoffice Authorities Chary About Proceeding Against the Man.

Frank W. Lugas has returned from Washington, Philadelphia and New York, where he sought to interest the postoffice authorities in "Prof." Edwin Turner Osbaldesten, the copious letter writer. Lugas is reticent regarding the result of his visit and will not tell what the postoffice authorities told him. By Monday or Tuesday, he said, there may be some developments.

The postoffice authorities are averse to taking up the case. Lugas told them Osbaldesten killed two men in Germany and was not tried because the authorities decided he was insane. They do not know what an American jury might do with Osbaldesten if he were tried for sending threatening letters or obscene publications through the mail, and they do not see why they should try a man, once declared insane, when there is a shorter cut.

They are considering whether it would not be advisable to hold an inquiry into Osbaldesten's sanity, in which case Lugas or his wife would have to take the first steps. They do not want to stir up scandal, however, and a glance into the two pamphlets which Osbaldesten has been distributing, giving his story of his difficulties with Mrs. Lugas, whom he calls his "common law" wife, has convinced them that the opportunity would be seized by Osbaldesten.

If Osbaldesten's story is true, that he passed the present Mrs. Lugas off as his wife without having obtained a divorce from his real wife, it is declared he could be held for bigamy under the New York laws.

BEATEN UP BY THUGS.

Napoleon White Was Pounced on by Six Men in the First Ward, Allegheny.

Napoleon White, a tentmaker, who lives in the rear of No. 401 Federal street, Allegheny, is in the Allegheny General hospital suffering with several contusions on the head and numerous body bruises given him. It is said, by six thugs who make their headquarters in the First ward of Allegheny. The assault was committed on Tuesday night, but it was not given out by the police.

Witnesses of the assault say White had been drinking with a crowd and later went to a pool room in Lacock street. He got into an argument with a stranger and a few minutes later was pounced upon by six men. White was rendered unconscious and was taken to the Allegheny General hospital, where he was in a serious condition for some hours.

The Allegheny police say White stole a drink from one of the men who beat him. No arrests have been made.

MARRIED AT FIFTEEN.

Pearl Callender's Parents Allow Her to Wed Clarence Ledger of Montooth.

With the consent of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Callender, of Montooth borough, a wedding license was issued yesterday for the marriage of Miss Pearl Callender, aged 15 years, to Clarence D. Ledger, aged 21, also from Montooth.

When the pair applied for the license, Clerk H. L. Hegner started to ask some questions, as Miss Callender is rather small even for her 15 years of age. The parents then stepped forward and said they would sign the needful papers.

Last Sunday word was sent to the Pittsburgh police department that Miss Callender had disappeared from her Montooth home. Ledger, who had been paying attention to the girl, was absent about the same time. He appeared in the borough early Monday, however, and denied he had seen Miss Callender. Tuesday she quietly returned to her home and her parents gave their consent to the marriage.

Sends the following appreciative testimonial to the virtues of Cuticura for distressing skin troubles peculiar to that country:—

"I wish to speak of the merits of Cuticura Soap. In the first place it has no equal. I have been using it for some time and I find it to be an excellent remedy for all skin troubles. I have been using other well known soaps, but I can truly say, they are not in it with the Cuticura. This country is the place to test the merits of Cuticura as one is troubled with all kinds of skin troubles."

Millions of the world's best people use Cuticura Soap, assisted by Cuticura Ointment, for preserving, purifying and beautifying the skin, for cleansing the scalp of crusts, scales and dandruff, and the stopping of falling hair, for softening, whitening and soothing red, rough and sore hands, for baby rashes, itchings and chafings, in the form of baths for annoying irritations and inflammations, or too free or offensive perspiration, in the form of washes for ulcerative weaknesses, and many sanative, antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves to women, especially mothers, as well as for all the purposes of the toilet, bath and nursery.

Cuticura Remedies are sold throughout the world. Cuticura Resolvent, 50c (in form of Chocolate Coated Pills 25c per vial of 60), Ointment, 50c, Soap, 25c. Depots: London, 27 Charterhouse Sq.; Paris, 5 Rue de la Paix; Boston, 137 Columbus Ave. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props.

GROWTH OF POPULATION IN THE UNITED STATES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—The census bureau has published as a bulletin a discussion of the increase of population in the United States as shown by the census of 1900. The principal results of the study of these figures are summarized as follows: The increase in the United States, exclusive of Alaska and the recent insular possessions, was 13,046,851, or 20.7 per cent. Only one country, Argentina, has shown a more rapid growth. The rate of growth in the United States is double that of Europe. It is nearly double that of Canada and exceeds by one-sixth that of Mexico and by one-tenth that of Australia.
